High Buildings in New York.

It is claimed that land suitable for first class dwellings is so dear in New York that high buildings are a necessity. This seems to cast a little discredit upon the taste of the New York people. Land on or about Fifth avenue sells for high prices to be sure, but the greater portion of its value is unquestionably due to the fact that business which can and must pay at a high rate for good location is rapidly invading what was once a quiet retired street, and this very fact, far from making the avenue more desirable for dwelling houses, would certainly in most towns render it particularly distasteful. It is not wonderful that with ladies' tailors, quack-doctors, stable keepers and millionaires—all scrambling for the same house lot—that such a lot should advance to correspond with the demand; but it does not follow that the operation of a wholesome law should be suspended in order to allow a large number of persons to satisfy their peculiar tastes, what otherwise they would find themselves unable to do. The limits of Manhattan Island are not too restricted to allow persons who love privacy and comfort to live within sixty feet of the ground, because there are hundreds and perhaps thousands of lots, such as those bordering on Riverside Park, surpassing in beauty of situation any house lot in the world, except a few along the lake front in Geneva, purchaseable at prices which would be considered low in a second-rate western city. When these lots are all occupied, it will be time enough to argue that there is not room enough in New York to allow people to enjoy the sunshine.

A. W. Herr & Co.,

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

Hollow Walls in Buildings.

HOW THEY SHOULD BE CONSTRUCTED.

By G. P. Randall.

A salubrious and comfortable atmosphere in winter is best attained when houses are so constructed that they can be heated with the least possible amount of artificial heat.

I will premise that every building that is to be kept cool in summer and warm in winter should be provided with double windows. This is of the utmost importance. No building can be made thoroughly comfortable without these important appendages. The next great desideratum is to so construct walls as to prevent as far as possible the convection of heat through them. To this end it is essential that we use such material as has the least conducting power; hence the importance of our understanding the relative conductivity of the different materials used. Nearly all first-class buildings have their walls of stone, brick and mortar. The cheaper buildings, such as dwellings of a moderately expensive kind, are usually built of wood, and there is perhaps no class of buildings in which we live, in the construction of which there is a necessity for so thorough a knowledge of how to build as in this class of houses.

The relative conducting power of the different building materials is as follows:

Stone	14 to 16
Brick	5
Plaster	4
Wood—less than	1

Wood, therefore, is the best material named; but woolen felt is now much used in place of wood, and is probably better for many purposes.

Various sonsiderations, however, may govern our choice and necessitate the use of stone or brick. When this is the case, it is an excellent method to fur the walls inside with ordinary furring strips, then sheathe or cover them with this woolen felt, and against the face of each furring, and over the felt, fur again for lath and plaster. This is an interposition of what we have shown to be a comparatively good non-conductor, and, with an air-chamber on each side of it, —between the brick and the wood on the one hand and the lath and plaster on the other, —it is perhaps the best method of preventing convection of heat through walls. Hollow brick walls are sometimes resorted to, but if the two sections of the walls are so completely separated as to entirely break the continuity of the brick the walls are weakened. It is a popular error that a wide space or air chamber in a hollow wall is better than a narrow one. This error is founded entirely on a misconception of what heat is, and how it travels through space.

Value of Advertising.

There is practically but two kinds of advertising. One is sensational, the other permanent and constant. Any stranger can come into the city, rent a small office or desk room and by writing out a long list of property for sale and inserting it in one or more of the big dailies cause a sensation among a few poople who will call simply for further particulars. A little investigation follows and results in the buyer's going to the offices of other agencies or perhaps to the owner himself.

People who have money enough to buy a house and lot do not jnmp at hasty conclusions and make a deposit at once. They go about from place to place and consult with their friends, seeking all the legitimate channels of trade.

The well known agent or merchant who keeps his property or wares before the public in a modest sort of way, relying on his reputation for integrity and fair dealing, is 'almost sure to get hold of the largest buyers, and by his good judgment and business experience succeeds in making sales. It is beginning to be found out that some agents who advertise long lists every Sunday have not the control of the same and consequently cannot deliver it. To be sure most of this pretended property for sale is not exactly located; so it is difficult to tell what the advertiser is offering. Sometimes great injustice is done property on a certain street—between such and such a street—by having it heralded all over the country that SUCH PROPERTY IS FOR SALE BY SEVERAL AGENTS. A good thing need not be hawked about to find a buyer in this day and age. The well-to-do and trustworthy agent or broker is content with keeping his name and business before the public, being sure that he is ready and capable to transact business when it comes, —the first object being to get hold of something to sell, or which is the same, gain the confidence of the seller or owner. Ribbons and notions can be best disposed of by the first kind of advertising, but to sell real estate requires some means, much time, and more patience.

Keep your name and business constantly before the community in a way not to excite doubt or disgust, and the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL will promise you success.

TERRA COTTA.

Meeting Otto Peltzer Esq., who is at present obliged to divide his time between his Abstract office and the duties as secretary of the West Side Terra Cotta factory, at the corner of Fifteenth and Lafiin streets, the BUILDING JOURNAL man ventured to stop him long enough to inquire how he was satisfied with the prospects of his new enterprise. Mr. Peltzer spoke in the most glowing terms of the coming building season and of the future of his factory and of terra cotta generally as a building material. In proof of what he said he handed the JOURNAL man the following list of contracts, the work on several of which had already been finished:

Harold M. Hansen, Ernst Heldmaier's building, 185 Congress street.

Andrew Dressel, Mr. Ackermann's house, Western avenue, near Polk street.

Ed. Baumann, Warrens house, Centre st. and Lincoln ave.

Campbell Bros. & Co., building, Jackson and Loomis sts.

A. M. F. Colton, building on Adams st. between Canal and Clinton sts.

Public Works Department, Rolling Tiles on West Side Pumping Works.

W. Strippelman, C. Seipps building, 26th st. and Portland ave.

W. Strippelman, Hovey's building, 7 Oakwood ave.

W. Strippelman, A. M. E. Church, 7 Hubbard st.

Henry Kley, Husch's building, Hoyne st.

W. Strippelman, factory, corner Ashland ave and Arbour st.

Treat & Foltz, E. J. Lehman's building, 344 State st.

E. Ernshaw, building, Michigan and State.

E. W. Loft, Sioux City, Haakinson's bldg. in Sioux City.

E. W. Loft, Sioux City, D. T. Hodges bldg. in Sioux City.

Maxon, Council Bluffs, building in Council Bluffs.

Henry T. Kley, Winter's residence on Fowler st.

S. I. Hicks, F. I. Owing's building on W. Madison st.

A number of other contracts although not yet awarded, have been promised them at an early day.

This is certainly an excellent showing in the beginning of the season for the Lake View Terra Cotta Co., considering that it only commenced operation since last November. Architects as well as owners are only too glad of the competition with the East.

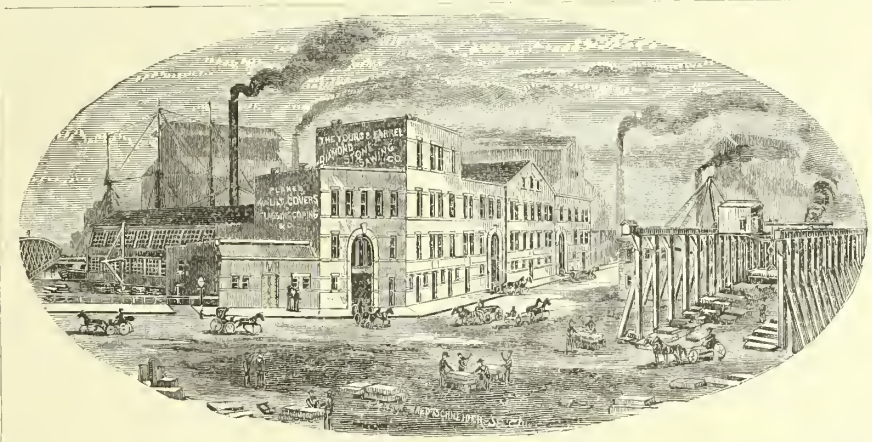
THE MARKET.

Nothing beyond what the records have disclosed in the line of real estate transactions is deserving of comment this week. Many agents are of the opinion that less newspaper talk and more work and perseverance would result in good to all concerned. Those who have been seduced to idleness by specious promises of a coming boom, are to-day complaining of dull times, but the majority of agents are busy and content with enough to do.

The following transactions are among the important sales for the past week:

Among the real estate sales recorded on Wednesday were two of more than usual proportions. John H. Mallers and wife sold to Robert D. Sheppard and others for $192,000 the property on the northeast corner of Quincy street and Eifth avenue—55x114 feet—on which there is a seven-story building, now occupied by Einstein, Longini & Co. Mr. Sheppard also bought on his individual account of Nancy A. and James Van Etta the lot on the west side of Wabash avenue, 160 feet south of Adams street, with a frontage of forty feet and a depth of 171, for $60,000. A building is in process of erection on this lot.

Edward Cody and others sold to John Gaynor and others 22½x160 feet on Van Buren street, 155 feet east of Fifth avenue, north front, on March 24, for $22,500.



On Rhodes avenue, 177 feet north of 37th street, west front, 20x100 feet, improved, was sold by U. P. Smith to Mary E. Griswold for $60,100.

On Elston avenue southeast of Webster, 249 feet running to the river, was sold by Harvey Cockreld to Henry Mann for $35,000.

On March 24, 80x73 92-100 feet on Market street, southeast corner of Adams, south front, was sold by R. M. Hatfield to Fredrick Haskell for $160,000. Other sales of importance can be seen in the record columns. Building permits are being taken out at the rate of twenty to twenty-five a day, ranging in cost from $1000 to $50,000; quite a number for $9000 and $10,000, and upwards to $50,000; but the majority of houses being started at this season of the year are dwellings costing from $1000 to $10,000. Tenants will have a better opportunity to secure good houses on the first of May than has been afforded for several years. The few costly residences built to rent at $1000 to $1200 per year, are generally occupied by first class tenants. During the last two years, capital has been invested in cheap or very moderately expensive dwellings rather than costly residences; but the time is now at hand for building a finer grade of dwelling houses. The expensive improvements made upon some of the best streets and especially on the boulevards on the South and West sides will be an incentive in this direction. The ground has become too valuable for cheap structures.

He thinks the new quarter will be fully as comfortable if not quite as large as the rooms they will vacate. The JOURNAL congratulates the association on their choice of landlords as well as location.

CITY COUNCIL.

The commissioner of public works was given permission by the council last Monday night to award contracts for the completion of the new city hall without further advertising. On the report of the commissioner that a shortage in the appropriation for street improvements of $156,813.56 existed, a committee was appointed, composed of the mayor, the commissioner of public works, and the fire marshal, to make the necessary reductions and to stop the incurring of debts not covered by the appropriation.

An ordinance was passed prohibiting restaurants or hotels from employing more than one runner at any railroad depot, and an ordinance presented by Ald. Wickersham, granting permission to the Merchants and Bankers' telegraph company to construct underground conduits for their wires in the public streets, tunnels, and alleys of the city. The ordinance provides that upon the filing of a bond for $50,000, the company shall be allowed to operate the lines for fifty years.

A New Amphitheatre.

The need of an amphitheatre to accommodate dealers in fancy stock has made an impression on the Transit Company, and it has decided to build one which will be ready for use by the 1th of April. The location is in the old Dexter Park grounds in front of the sheds and booths for housing stock, and close to the two small artesian lakes. The amphitheatre will be built of seasoned lumber, with stone foundations, will be in polygon style and seventy-five feet in diameter. The outside wall will be eighteen feet high, the show-circle thirty-three feet in diameter, and the tower forty feet high. There will be seating room for 800 people, the seats gradually rising from the ground extending back to the outside wall. A driveway will run through the amphitheatre from east to west, so that the animals on exhibition will enter at the eastern gate and pass out at the western entrance.

A $20 Biblical Prize.

The Publishers of RUTLEDGE'S MONTHLY offer twelve valuable rewards in their MONTHLY for April, among which is the following:

Persons trying for the reward must send 20 cents in silver (no postage stamps taken) with their answer, for which they will receive the May MONTHLY, in which the name and address of the winner of the reward and the correct answer will be published, and in which several more valuable rewards will be offered. A. W. Herr & Co.,

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

LANDLORD AND TENANT — POSSESSION OF PREMISES—REMAINING IN AFTER LEASE EXPIRES.—The opinion of the Appellate Court, First District, by MCALLISTER, P. J., holding that if A leases certain premises, but at the commencement of his term a former occupier, C., is in possession, and such possession is rightful as between such occupier and B, the lessor. so that A can not maintain an action for forcible detainer or ejectment against C, B would be barred of a recovery of the rent from A; that where there is a lease for a year, and by the assent of both parties, the tenant continues in possession afterward then in the absence of any new agreement the law will imply a tacit renovation of the former one; that where the lease is for any period less than a year, the holding will be construed as being for another term of the same length of time. and in all cases as upon the same terms as to the amount of rent and times of payment, unless there be some act of one or both the parties to rebut such an implication; that where acts are shown which would suffice to rebut the implication of such renewal, but which fall short of a new agreement, then the tenant would be in the rightful possession under a tenancy subject to be terminated by thirty days' notice in writing.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Concrete as a Building Material.

The subject of concrete houses is one of perennial interest. It is continually coming to the fore, and the experience of one section of country or one community seems to be of no particular advantage to any other. While it is undoubtedly true that successful concrete houses can be built, it also remains that this style of building in many sections of the country is not necessarily cheap, but, on the other hand, is expensive in comparison with the usual building materials employed. Concrete work, from a certain standpoint, is as simple as anything to be done in building operations, and yet it requires an intimate knowledge of the properties of the materials employed to render it entirely successful. Hence it is that many failures occur in work of this kind when attempted by persons without experience in the art. A western paper recently published an article advocating the construction of houses of concrete. A neighboring journal, published at Winona, Minn., replies that experiments of the kind referred to were thoroughly tried, at that point several years since, and the scheme abandoned It then recounts that one of the buildings fell and that the walls of the others have since crumbled. It says that some of the cellar walls laid in this manner answer fairly well, but not well enough to justify any enthusiasm for concrete. This is a characteristic illustration in point, and shows that the absence of engineering skill will often serve to cause failure in cases where success is easily possible with proper technical knowledge.

Wood Mantles.

Wood mantles have come into use with great rapidity during the last few years. Many very elegant and varied designs are now in the market. The kinds of wood principally in use are cherry, walnut. oak, and ash. These mantles are often made more beautiful by the use of tiles. The tiles are laid around the fireplace and are sometimes inlaid in the mantle. The variety of tiles is very large and beautiful. Some are plain, varying only in color while others have very handsome designs upon them.—One of the principal firms dealing in these mantles and tiles is that of A. A. Riley, 178 Wabash av. Mr. Riley has a full supply of these goods comprising the latest designs which will suit the most fastiduous, and a full line of grates, brass fire-places, fenders, andirons, fire-sets, etc. can always be found in his store.

THE MARKET.

Agents have quite enough to do to attend to the demands of tenants and those seeking new leases for the first of May. As that eventfully and disagreeable day approaches, the scarcety even of good dwelling, in the city becomes more and more apparant. With all the new houses that have been built, there is still a demand for more, and of a still better grade. The majority of people have been making money, which they will employ in making home more pleasant and attractive. From a diligent inquiry among landlords and tenants it is shown that fewer changes will be made than occurred at this season one and two years ago. The unsettled condition of the price of brick deters many from building a house of their own to live in; hence the increased demand on the renting agents. Mr. E. A. Cummings says: "The popularity of first-class apartment buildings is steadily growing in all large cities. The apartment building combines the comforts and society of the hotel, with the privacy of home life. Great improvements in construction hava been introduced, some of the later designs are models of luxurious perfection. The rents charged for first-class apartment, furnish, for the money, more comfort and ease than can be attained in other forms of living. The first apartment building erected in this city was designed by Mr. John Addison, architect, in 1876, and his latest work, the Geneva, at 49 and 51 Rush street, shows the immense improvement study has wrought."

During the last week politics, together with the rain and bad roads, has caused a temporary hull in the lot trade. Few sails for large amounts are reported; one on State near Randolph street, for $50,000, and a few others in differnt localities as shown in the record colums of the JOURNAL. Owners of vacant lots suitable for first-class residences and stores, are not governed by figures at which their neighbors have sold, but are asking all their property is worth plus its increase for two to five years to come.

From statements authoritatively made at city head quarters, the opening of Dearborn street will be put through at an early day. There has been $202,000 of the necessary $500,000 collected. The Western Indiana Railroad offiials are pushing matters to a speedy conclusion, and there is no doubt but the street will be opened and improved during the next sixty days.

SUBURBAN BUILDING.

The hundreds of buildings in process of construction in Hyde Park as well as in all other popular suburban localities shows a general tendency to move away from high rents. Many of these suburban dwellings are models of beauty and taste, displaying architectural beauty in both houses and grounds. Kenwood alone has had 50 houses built within a year. In Hyde Park center a brick business block is under construction; also at South Park new dwellings are noticed on every side. Important improvements have been made at Woodlawn, Park-Side and Cheltenham Beach. A thousand or more brick buildings compose the little city of Pullman. Kensington and Roseland show many new houses. Two residences will be built cor. Oakwood and Lake avs. for Messrs. Trego & Spencer which will rank among the best in Hyde Park.

Mr, Turner, who is about completing four imposing houses fronting west on Drexel Boulevard, near Fortieth st., has purchased for immediate improvement 43 feet on Lake avenue, at $200 per foot,

Messrs. Conrad and Hibbard are erecting fine residences on Lake avenue, between Thirty-ninth and Fortieth streets which are now well advanced. The Wilson block is nearly completed. Sidewalks are being laid and large elmtrees planted in front.

On Ellis avenue the beautiful house just built for Mr. Merriam is about ready to move into. Mr. Wheelock, the architect, has bought a fifty foot lot on this avenue, just south of Mr. Merriam, on which he will at once commence the construction of an expensive brick residence.

Handsome, costly and substantial residences are springing up on all sides, in all parts of the village. Among some now being built are the following:

W. H. Burnett is building an elegant brick residence on Forty-seventh street, near Lake avenue.

I. N. Ash, O. W. Potter, James W. Ellsworth and Robert Strahorn have houses nearly completed or under way near by. They will all be handsome and costly, the

At Oakland, Forestville, Hyde Park, South Park and Woodlawn, the same state of affairs is true, and in the district north of Sixty-third street an amount not less than $1,000,000 will be invested in dwellings this summer,

The Real Estate and Renting Agents' Association

The Real-Estate & Renting-Agents' Association held a regular meeting at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, President Morey in the chair, The by-laws were amended so as to allow the following advisory commission on rales: On $3,000 or less, 5 per cent; from $3,000 to $10,000, 5 per cent on first $3.000 and 2½ per cent on the remained; over $10,000, 2½ per cent. This scale is not obligatory. but will probably be pretty generally observed by members of the association. The report of the Treasurer for the last quarter showed the following items: On hand Jan. 1, $158.05; receipts, $1,945; disbursements, $903.45; on hand April 1, $1.199.60. The new lease was submitted for approval. Mr. Goodrich, of the Lease Committee, stated that the principal change from the old lease was that no guarantee of thn eondition of the premises was made. Other slight changes were pointed out, and the members were requested to look over the lease and return them marked with proposed changes Friday noon to Mr. Goodrich.

Seven new members were elected. The Committee on Membership resigned, but they were tendered a vote of thanks and unanimously re-elected. The Reference Committee, to whom was referred the matter of the proposed change of name, reported that J. P. Wilson, the association's counsel, had recommended an amendment to the constitution and a change of articles of association before making any change in the name; notice of the propesed change was given. The association now has seventy-five members who have paid $50 each, and hereafter all applicats will have to pay $100.

CITY COUNCIL.

The Department of Public Works submitted ordinances which were passed as follows:

Sidewalk on both sides of Myrtle street, from Birch to Ashland av.; on Cypress st., from Kendall to W. Twelfth st.; also on Linaoln st., from W. Taylor to W. Twelfth; also on East side Birch street, from Robey to Kendall; both sides of Paulina st., from W. Madison to Twelfth; also on Nixon st., from W. Polk to W. Taylor st.; also on Vernon place, from Center av, to Loomis st.; West side of Blue Island av., from Ashland to Wentworth av.; East side of Seymour street, from W, Division st. to Gross Parkway; both sides of W. Indiana st., from Ashland av. to Oakley; same from Tinkham to Crawford av.; both sides of Elston av., from W. Division to Armitage road; West side of Avers av., from W. Indiana to W. Ohio; North side of Ohio street, from Central Park avenue to Crawford avenue; both sides of W. Taylor st., from Laflin to Leavitt; south side, West division st, from Western av. to California av.

Underwriters' Influence on Rents.

Underwriters have a good deal of authority in determining the kind of buildings which shall be erected. In any structure that is to be leased for offices, store, factory, or for dwellings the rate of insurance that the companies will fix for the lessees has much to do in governing the rent to be obtained. Their standards as to safety make a law which, with few exceptions, is not generally recognized, and the insurance eompanies must, for their own protection, make the most careful study and the closest analysis of all causes which increase fire risk or give comparative immunity therefrom. The old ideas about safety in building were greatly changed by the Chicago and Boston fires. The modern five and six story store, with marble or granite front, a flimsy roof, and an inside full of compustibles, prove a great deal worse fire risk than the two or three story brick warehouse of fifty years ago, and the ruin which those fires caused to the insurance eompanies has made them exceedingly careful ever since. For this reason, in all our recently erected high buildings, lath and plaster partitions, wood joists and floors, stairs and roof, are invariably ruled out, stone, brick, and iron being used instead, with as little wood veneering as possible.

The insurance companies also keep very close watch of the means provided for the extinguishing of fires, the abundance and convenienee of the water supply, the equipment of the fire department, etc., and with all this eare, it is said that the fire insurance business, as a whole, has been unprofitable for the past two years.

For factory insurance, the leading mutual company of the country has formulated a very complete system of what might almost be called self-proteetion, to be adopted in any establishment to be insured, before it will issue a policy thereon. The water supply must be abundant, and pumps, pipes, hydrants, and sprinklers supplied ad libitum.

In this way the actual cost of insurance to its members has been reduced to a minimum, or about 20 cents on each $100 for 1883.

Against this saving in the cost of insurance should be placed the expence to which the insured were put for changes of construction and fire extinguishing apparatus, but such expence has been incurred mainly within the past six years, and constitutes of itself a permanent investment for safety. Under such conditions, the average of unavoidable losses on factory property insured by this company is given as less than one-tenth of one per cent upon the risks taken. These losses were occasioned by 94 fires, attributed to the following causes: Friction, 21; unknown, or not reported, 17; spontaneous, 13; foreign matter in stock, 13; gas, 7; matches, 6; steam pipes, 3; lamps, 2; defective chimneys, 2; boiler furnaces, 1; mice, 1; sparks, 3; spark from emery wheel, 1; petroleum, 1; gasoline vapor 1; lamp dropped from lantern, 1; flashing powder, 1. In 18 of these cases the automatic sprinklers—made to sprinkle a room or apartment on a very slight rise in the temperature—put out the fires entirely, or held them in check.

BUSINESS is beginning to improve as the spring advances. All or nearly all the omens are auspicious. Wheat is ialling in price and will continue to do so until it can be exported to Liverpool at a profit; that is one good sign. The West-bound freights are inereasing, due to a better demand for goods at the West and Sonth; that is another good sign. A very active demand has sprung up for improved dreal estate, which is the best sign of all. The spring is now fairly under way, the planting season is all that could be desired, money is very easy, emigration is large and good securities at present prices are tempting to investors. A. W. Herr & Co.,

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

DUTY ON LUMBER.

While the national Government is endeavoring, by timber culture acts. to secnre the planting of trees in our Territories, and the whole nation, from ocean to ocean, is aroused as never before to an appreciation of the value of our wooded lands, there stands on the statue books of the United States a law that directly discourages forest preservation, puts a premium on the destruction of our trees, and for the benefit of a few lumbermen taxes the people of the nation $25,000,000 a year.

This law is the duty on lumber. It is aimed, as the New York Sun, with its usual penetration, remarks editorially, at Canadian spruce and pine. Woods that are not produced in this country are admitted free of duty. This tax simply puts money in the pockets of a comparatively few lumber manufactures, and takes it out of the pockets of the people who pay so much more for every board they need for building purposes. These lumber intsrests have controlled State legislatures, they have been influential in Congress, and the traces of their control may be seen now at Albany and Washington. We have already pointed out their interest in several bills now before the Legislature nominally having in view the preservation of the Adirondack forests. Similar indications of their influence will soon be seen in Congress, for Mr. Dorsheimer has introduced a bill placing lumber upon the free list. That bill ought to pass; and Congressmen ought to know that their record on it will be closely scanned and accurately remembered by their constituencies. Forest preservation is no longer a "local issue." It is a great national question, and the people want to see their representatives on the right side of it.—Exchange.

S. J. Hicks, Contractor and Builder, reports the following contracts received lately:

A building to be erected on West Madison street, just east of Ashland avenue, on south side of street. The building is to be used as a Parlor Skating Rink and Intertainment Hall. The dimensions are 76x187 feet. It is to be built with pressed brick front. The frontage of 76 feet is divided into four stores. There are two stories. On the main floor is the rink with an area of 60x136 feet and a seating capacity of 1500. The Hall is on the second floor.

The owner is Mr, R. W. Bridge, of the city. The intent is to make it the nicest resort on the West Side, and unobjectionable in character.

Mr. Hicks also reports the erection of an office building on Third avenue and Harrison street, to cost $12,000. There are to be three stories and basement, nicely finished, A number of fine dwellings are being erected in Englewood by the same Builder and Contractor.

THE MARKET.

The movement in real estate during the past week has been cofined to small amounts with a few exceptions. This monotony is somewhat varied by a few transactions in acres, (e g), 25 acres in n w¼, sec. 29, Town of Lake, for $5000; 16¾ acres in n w¼, 34, 41, 9, in miscellaneous column, and 20 acres in w½, n w¼, sec. 26, Towp. 37, Range 12,. Improved residence property is being sold more than usual. A careful perusal and examination of the records as they are classified and published in the following pages will enable even a stranger in Chicago to form a good idea of values, as well as to learn what the demand is. While there are but few sales at present reported for $50,000 and upwards, the market shows signs of activity, and strength. Those who do not buy improved property, of which there is just now a plentiful supply for people of limited means, buy a lot for immediate improvement. The building societies, as well as a number of our real estate men have been building houses by the wholesale for people of moderate means. In the Southern portoin of the city capitalists however, have ventured to build a number of more expensive houses, ranging in price from $5,000 to $10,000. Thus far these public spirited and enterprising men have felt encouraged, and if their houses are all sold or rented on the first of May, they will be sure to go ahead with further improvements. Old dilapidated frame houses are at a discount, becaus they are always needing repairs and require twice as much fuel to keep warm.

LOANS.

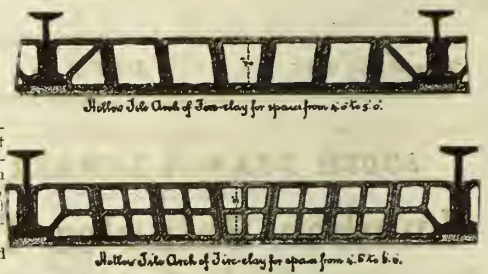
The prevailing rate at which money is loaned for building, and on real estate security, is now 7%, while a few generally of small amounts, are being made at 8%, but in all cases where the amount is $10,000 and upwards, the rate is 6%. Those who will take the pains to look over the Trust Deed and Mortgage columns will readily see that the rate per cent has been slighty increased over the current rate of six months ago. It is believed by some, that numerous property owners are now realizing, and have been for the past two years, as much as 12, and in some cases 17 per cent gross on their investments. We have less complaint about the scarcity of stores this spring than was heard two years ago. Accomodations in this line are certainly ample on the West side, but the prices asked east of the river would indicate that the demand is equal to the supply.

BUILDING MATERIAL.

The trade in Builders' hardware is active, and the lumber and building material market shows signs of animation, though lumber merchants state that shipments to Nebraska and Kansas, and other Western sections, have fallen off greatly since the last advance in railroad freight. The February cut in freight caused a large increase in the shipment of lumber from this city, and western consumers and dealers improved the opportunity by laying in large supplies. A few cargoes of slabs, posts, and common lumber are arriving in this port, and prices are opening considerably lower for lumber than a year ago, the present tendency be ing favorable for a further decline later in the season. Nails are in fairly active demand, on the bases of $2.55 for small sized orders.

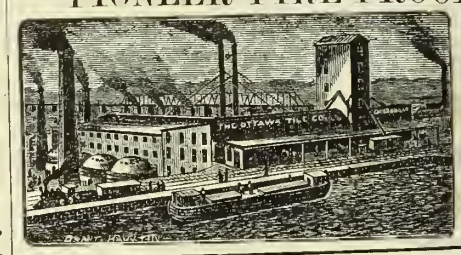
THE RIGHTS OF LANDLORDS.

A decision by Judge Moran in the habeas corpus case of Francis J. Le Moyne, George McCaulay and Charles Nichols will be of considerable interest to property owners, as it involves their rights to enter peaceably upon their own premises when thh lease of the tenent in possession has expired. The relators were detained by the Sheriff on a charge of riot, preferred by Philip Henrici, proprietor of a restaurant at No 117 Randolph street. Henrici leased from Kingsbury, the owner of the builning, and the latter has been trying to get his tenant out, as he wants the premises for other purposes. Henrici claims to have been given a verbal lease for another year, as Le Moyne. as agent of Kingsbury, accepted payment from him of rent for the month of January. The relators. on March 29, tried to oust Henrici and his possessions, and the latter swore out a warrant for their arrest, for riot. Justice Lyon, before whom a preliminary hearing was had, held the prisoners in bail to the criminal court, and the petition for habeas corpus set forth that the relators were held without cause. The evidence which was given for both parties in the the justice conrt was submitted to Judge Moran, who decided that the prisoners must be discharged.



The above decision does not deal with the law as applied to the rights of the tenant to extend his lease under a verbal agreement. No evidence on this point was submitted. The landlord and his agents were not guilty of any riotious demonstrations; hence they were discharged.

The Debate On Cattle Disease in the House of Commons.



"The Market Lane Express" says: The Cattle Disease Bill was talked out in the House of Commons on March 18th, through pure "cussedness" on the part of an Irish member. There was not the slightest excuse for preventing the second reading, as the Bill does not in any way affect Ireland, unless indirectly, by giving an advantage to Irish breeders, as any measure restricting the supply of foreign live stock must do, temporarily at least.

Mr. Forster stated that the effect of shutting out live animals from countries infected with foot-and-mouth disease would be the exclusion of 250,000,000 lb, of meat. That is an over estimate. The quantity that would be shut out in its living form, taikng last year's imports as a standard, would be about 245½ million pounds, supposing the United States to remain infected with foot-and-mouth disease, and only a little over 115 million pounds if that country should get rid of the pest. A table on another page shows the number and weight of the animals received last year from infected countries, as taken from official returns. Of course nearly all the meat would come here in carcass form. The American supply certainly would, and most of the European supply would follow.

A. W. Herr & Co.,

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

FASHIONS IN ARCHITECTURE INFLUENCED BY CLIMATE &c.

A craze for Queen Anne decoration and houses-furnishing naturally led to a demand for houses built after the designs of the architects who lived during the reign of that queen, so all over the country we have had homes, yillas, and even churches erected in that style. There are fashions in architecture, as in dress, The late Bayard Taylor said that, in traveling through this country, it was easy to see when the various settlements were commenced. The exterior appearance of the houses told the story. The gabled edifices belong to the old colonial period; the pillars extending to the roof and enclosing the large piazza was characteristic o the sunny south in the days when slavery flurished; the mansard roof, once all the rage, marked an epoch of its own. And so through the other variations, each popular in its day, now obsolete. No one style of house structure is suitable for this vast country of ours. A Southern dwelllng should be entirely different from a Northern home. An Atlantic slope villa would be out of place on the Pacific coast, while a mountain chatlet would be an anachronism in a low-lying valley. The national architecture of America, when it is developed, will be as varied as the surface of our country.—The Builder.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR BLACK WALNUT.

Black birch is rapidly coming into favor. Black birch is a close-grained, handsome wood, and can be easily stained to resemble walnut exactly. It is just as easy to work, and is suitable for nearly, if not all, the purposes to which walnut is at present applied. Birch is much the same color as cherry, but the latter wood is now scarce and, consequently, dear. It is with difficulty that cherry wood can be obained at $50 a thousand feet, while birch wood can be purchased at any saw-mill for $1 per thousand feet. When properly stained it is almost impossible to distinguish the difference between it and walnut, as it is susceptible of a beautiful polish, equal to any wood now used in the manufacture of furniture. In the forests throughout Ontario birch grows in abundance, especially if the land be not boggy. There is a great difference in the wood of different sections. Where the land is high and dry the wood is firm and clear, but if the land is low and wet the wood has a tendeney to be soft and of a bluish color. In all the northern regions it can be found in great abundance, and as the tree grows to such a size, little trouble is experienced in procuring a large quantity. The forests of the Manitoulin Islands abound with it, as well as those of the Peterborough and Haliburton districts. The Muskoka district also contains a plentiful supply. During the past few years large quantities of this wood have. been exported from the Province of Quebec at a low figure It is very easily detected among other trees by its height, large trunk, and pecaliar color of its coarse bark. Most of the perforated chair-bottoms now in use are manufactured from it. There is a species of bird's-eye birch, but it is very scarce. An evidence of the weight and solidity of the wood is the fact that it will sink after being a few days on the water.—Toronto Globe.

Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, April 19, 1884.

THE MARKET.

The leading agencies report as usual at this time of the year, an active inquire for residence property, in all parts of the city and suburbs, and particularly in Hyde Park. During the last three months, and upto the the present time, central business property has been eagerly sought by capitolists; and much of it has been sold at good round figures. All of the available space suitable for business purposes, is in use, or in demand, many dealers going into the 2nd and 3rd stories with their wares to avoid the high rents charged for first floors. The residence buildings, constructed within the last two years are far in advance of the dwelling houses of former years; and it is safe to say that new dwelling houses, of the improved kind, are occupied as soon as they are finished. There is an abundance of capitol seeking investment in real estate, and lenders are well satisfied with 6,7, and 8 per cent loans on small houses. Much of the new building in the residence line, is being done by building loans; made simply as an investment, where otherwise the capitol would lie idle. So far, men who have been engaged in this work are well satisfiad with results. There has been little, or no demand for acres, and the expected boom for dock property, especially at South Chicago, has not been realized. In the scramble for residence property we hear and see the excitement, but the would-be buyer of acres, and large blocks for corporate purposes, gives us the still hunt; hence we can only report a big transaction of the latter kind after it has been done. The following sales of recent date, will serve to keep up the courage of agents, if any of them have found it dull during the past week: 50xI60 feet improved, on Michigan ave. n e corner of 29th st, west front was sold by Harriet D. Murphy to Mary E. Witbeck, for $65,000; On Calumet ave, near 31st st, 110x125 feet was sold by R. B. Miller to Ira S. Younglove, for $32,500; On Wabash ave, 200 feet south of Adams st, 40x171 was sold by Albert Crane to Rob. D. Sheppard. for $65,000; 190 feet on Hnrlbut, and 72 feet on Mohawk st, between Wisconsin and Mennominee sts. 119 feet deep, was sold for $10,500.

An important transaction between the Receiver of the Chicago Land Co, and the C M and St P R R Co, was consumated abont March 1st, amounting to $225,000, conveying 492 feet to the river on North ave, s w corner of Hawthorn ave, with 8 entire blocks and 5 lots in the same addition. I9¦ lots were sold at River side, for $33,000 (see miscellaneous report,) and I0IxI50 feet in bl 7I, South Chicago, was sold Apl I5th, for $I500. The list of agreements will furnish the careful dealer with further information as to the state of the market, which may be put down as active, and encouraging to holders of residence and store property.

BUILDINGS AND RENTS.

It has been intimated to our reporter who has been interviewing house owners and renting agents, that building enough has been done, especially for offices and dwellings to supply the demand in Chicago, at least for the present. Buildings like the First National Bank,the Mantauk block,Commercial National, Calument, and a half dozen others of equal or greater height, have furnished office room to hundreds of Lawyers, Real Estate agents, Commission men and others who were occupants of buildings on Washington, Dearborn and LaSalle sts. north of Madison. In nearly all cases tenants who have left, and are going to leave their old quarters to occupy offices in the high buildings, have submitted to a much higher rent than they were paying. Washington. LaSelle, Dearborn and a small portion of Clark st, have always been considered favorite localities for attorneys, architects and real estate agents, and in the opinion of the JOURNAL will still maintain their reputation among the above classes, though the Commission men and members of the Board oi Trade, will move out in the direction of LaSalle and Jackson sts. Between 2500 and 3000 permits have been iseued annnelly for dwellings and stores with flats above during the last four years,and at the rate we have been going since Jan. 1st, a much larger number will be built in the present year. It must not be forgotten that more houses have been built outside of the city, in Hyde Park, Lake, Evanston, Lake View and Cicero, than has been constructed within the limits. To be sure suburban bnildings are generally small and inexpensive, when compared with the better classes of houses erected in the city, but it is safe to say that provisions have beeu made in new buildings to house an increased population of 100,000 per year. During the hard times, and up to the year 1881 people huddled together to save rent. During the last the last three years ,the tendency has been to occupy more space, and live more comfortably; this also increases the demand for new houses. The second day of May will determine whether there is need of more tenants or more houses.

Fire Insurance.

At this time of the year when building is going on so rapidly, the question of Fire Insurance demands attention. The only safe way to find the companies which are solid to insure in, is to confer with some one who has made this his business, and who is able to show you the standing of the different companies. So we take pleasure in refering to one among the many agents who are representatives of first-class companies, Adolph Loeb, with office at 170 LaSalle st. Mr. Loeb represents the following companies; North German Fire Ins Co, of Hamburg, Home Mutual Fire Ins Co, of San Francisco California, Lloyd's Plate Glass Ins Co, of New York, Pennsylvania Ins Co. of Pittsburg, Birmingham Fire Ins Co, of Pittsburgh.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

DAMAGES BY SMOKE CAN ONLY BE RECOVERED BY ORIGINAL OWNER.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of this State by SHELDON, C J., holding where the plantiff had four years after the railroad had been running, purchased the land in question and sued the railroad company for damages caused to his buildings by smoke, cinders etc., that as the former owner could have sued and recovered for the depreciation in the value of the property caused by the railroad, the right of action was in him for a recovery for all damages that were or might be caused in the operation of the railroad, and that there was no right of action in his alienee.

A. W. Herr & Co.,

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

THE RECORD of the previous week showed a decrease in the number of permits for new buildings, but the week just closed furnishes a better record.

Bad weather and the scarcety of common brick no doubt have had a depressing effect upon builders, Brick manufacturers are increasing their facilities and capacity on the assumption that more brick will be needed the present season than was used last year. In 1883 340,000,000 brick were used, nearly all of which was manufactured in Chicago and vicinity. Manufactures are figuring upon the basis of 390 to 400 millions as the amount of brick to be used the present year. All other articles in the line of building material are in good supply and active demand. The winter having been favorable to a larger cut of timber, it is predicted that an excess of supplies in lumber will be manufactured by mill men.

Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, April 26, 1884.

NEWS SUMMARY.

The greatest activity prevails in real estate and building operations, not only in Cook County but throughout the entire Northwest. Emigration to the Northwest has, during the past few weeks increased very much. Just at present pretty much all new comers are destined for points on the extreme Western end of the Northern Pacific. The through trains on that road have, during the past two weeks, been so large that the company has been taxed to supply the necessary rolling stock. They are principally from Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, and Iowa, composing in the majority, mechanics with their families, who are to settle in the new towns and cities of Oregon and Washington Territory. The prospects are that imigration the coming summer will nearly, if not quite, exceed that of 1882. and the railroads are making extensive preparations to meet this great demand upon their carrying capacity.

Half a million a week has already been reached in real estate transactions in Minneapolis. still the demand goes steadily forward, and they expect soon to record three quarters of a million as the regular weekly average.

Agents report a large demand. and are kept busy from morning until night showing up the beauty spots and desirable localities. Meanwhile, the fine weather has given a stimulus to building operations, and many new and important enterprises are daily developing. From present indications the building record promises for the current year to far exceed that of last, marvelous as it proved to be. The streets in every direction show signs of lively activity; brick, stone, lumber, etc., are piling up, and scarcely a block can be traversed by pedestrians without turning into the street.

There is more than the ordinary demand for houses for rent, but the particnlar demand not easily met is for small houses with modern improvements. within easy walking distance of the business centre. To meet this demand there are many large apartment houses planned and in course of erection, somewhat on the plan of the French flats of the eastern cities, but with less attention to costly improvements, which are ented in almost every instance as soon as the outer walls are up. These apartments rent for from $20 to $40 per month, and serve for the middle classes of men of moderate means, accommodating four and five families each.

The spring demand for real estate in St. Paul has not fairly set in, although each week shows a rapid improvement in both inquiries and sales. The principal demand has been for suburban lots, which are being bought for immediate improvement, not for speculation. The scarcity of dwellings ranging in value from $1,000 to $3,000 is being felt more and more every day, and it is for this class of property, not the large buildings, that there is a persistent demand. There have been some large sales during the week, but none of these were speculative.

Without claiming a boom for Chicago real estate it is hard to account for the long list of transfers made during the last week. The number of deeds filed for record in the Recorder's office shows a decided increase within the city limits and beyond the seven mile radius from the court house. Acre property is making a desperate effort to come to the front, with what success can be seen by an examiuation of county and suburban deeds. To enumerate all of the important transactions in realty for the past week and comment upon them would require an addition of several pages to the JOURNAL.

Money is being freely loaned at 7% for building purposes which furnishes the only occasion for lot owners to borrow money. The activity in building continues and increases in the number of new structures as well as in architectural design and expenditure.

GENERAL IMPROVEMENTS.

Over sixty buildings are now in process of construction at Mitchell, Minn., and nearly all are of the better class.

At Tracy, Minn., a new hotel is to be erected, to cost $15,000. Also a pnblic hall, to cost $11,000.

Maybury & Son, of Winona, have furnished plans for rebuilding the Methodist church at Rochester, Minn.

The plans for the new building of The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company are ready and work will soon be commenced. When completed this will be one of the finest buildings in Minneapolis.

The old building long known as the Astor house, at Red Wing, Minn., has been removed and a fine brick block is being erected on the site. The old Astor rookery has adorned Main street for over twenty-seven years.

A large opera house, 40x80, is in the course of erection at Plankington, and will be completed in a few days. The builder, W. A. Ferguson, is flooring it with hard maple, and will use it for a skating rink.

At Geneva Lake, Wis., there is now being erected a fine hospital and asylum building that will be four stories in hight. Anderson pressed brick is the material that will be used in its construction. It will be finished in hardwood, have a high-pitched roof, with dormers, and approach the Queen Anne style of architecture. The cost, when completed, is estimated at $150,000. The building is being put up by the Wisconsin Association for the Private Cure of the Insane.

The elevator capacity at Duluth is to be materially increased. At present there are three elevators. Two others are now in the course of erection, which will be compleled in ample time for the storage of next season's crops. Among other improvements are the docks now building on the Wisconsin side by the St. Paul & Pacific Coal Company and the docks and warehouse of the Northern Pacific Elevator Company on Minnesota point. When all the elevators under way are completed the storage capacity will reach 5,000,000 bushels. It is now about 2,700 bushels.

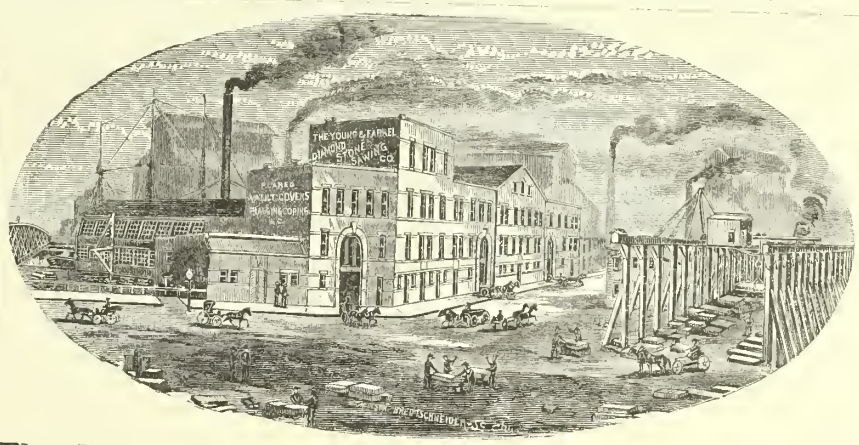
Work on the new Colby Block, at the north-east corner of Milwaukee and Mason streets, Milwaukee, Wis., has been begun, and it is hoped to have the structure ready for occupancy by September, this year. The building will have a frontage of 120 feet on Mason street and 100 on Milwaukee street, and will be five stories in hight. The foundations will be of stone and the superstructure of brick, with Bass Island Stone trimmings. The ground floor will be laid out in five stores, while the upper floors will be devoted to offices. The second and third floors will be occupied by the Wisconsin Central Railway Company. The cost is estimated at from $150,000 to $200,000.

Lands.

By the dissolution of the firm of Frederikson, Hansen & Drummond, the lands heretofore purchased and controlled by them in the counties of Kossuth, Humboldt, Palo Alto and Emmett, in the state of Iowa, and the county of Jackson in the state of Minnesota, have been set apart and conveyed to Willis Drummond, Jr. as his respective share. These lands are among the choicest to be procured in the northern part of Iowa and southern part of Minnesota, and it is believed that they afford excellent opportunities for securing profitable investments and good homes. These lands are suitable for general farming, stock raising, dairying etc.



Those of the Real Estate men who have calls for such lands, can obtain full information from Mr. Drummond at his office No. 26 N. Clark street. Besides these lands Mr. Drummond is dealing in Government Land Scrip of all kinds.

We would call attention to the card of S. M. Moore & Co., the well known Insurance Agents, which appears in this edition of the JOURNAL.

The Companies they represent are large and prompt in payment of losses. To owners, and those having the care of properties, also those making loans for building and other purposes we would suggest that they give S. M. Moore & Co. a call and they will be certain of receiving courteous treatment and fair rates as well as the ample security which their companies afford.

REMOVAL.

The well known firm of A. F. Irons & Co., for many years engaged in business at No. 173 Madison street, will on May 1st remove to Nos. 179 and 181, a few doors west of the old number on Madison street. Plumbing in all its branches and sewerage ventilation has been successfully carried on by this firm.

As spring with warm weather is now in order, it is high time that dwellings were made secure against sewer gas poisoning which annually destroys the health and lives of many people. A man may be a good mechanic and a faithful workman, and yet know nothing about the philosophy involved in the proper ventilation of a building. The subject has been sufficiently discussed in previous numbers of this journal and needs no extended analysis here. Suffice is to say that an aquaintance of one or more years with the above named firm, and having had opportunities to know something of the character of the work done by them, the JOURNAL unhesitatingly recommends them to the attention of house owners and builders.

Among the prominent Plumbers and Gas Fitters on the South side we may mention as worthy of particular notice Mr. P. Nacey, 1209 State street. His store is commodious and well filled with a handsome and well selected stock of gas fixtures, chandeliers, etc., and his patrons always receive the most studious politeness from both Mr. Nacey and his courteous assistant. Mr. Nacey has yet to learn of a patron where his work in plumbing and gas fitting has not given complete satisfaction. His advertisement will be found on the front page.

A. W. Herr & Co.,

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

THE
Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, May 3, 1884.

NEWS SUMMARY.

A thief secreted in the counting room of the Times office, stole $900 from the safe and escaped.

A rascal, giving his name as C. E. Butcher, and references in Galesburg, one by the name of E. F. Phelps, sec. Mutual Benefit Assoc., offered his services as solicitor on the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, and pending investigation of his references, and during the absence of the publisher, he took posssession of every thing of value lying on the desks, including a gold pen and ebony holder. The fellow was tolerably well dressed, had a smooth face, and was apparantly about 23 or 24 years old. The supposition is that he took some blanks along with the pen holder and ink for the purpose of making out bills and collecting the same. Subscribers and advertisers should be on the lookout.

REAL ESTATE AND RENTS.

There has been no change in the realty market during the week just closed. Sales have been quite numerous, though but few of great importance. We close the records for this week amid the din and bustle of moving. Tenants seem to have deferred house and office hunting as long as possible, thinking that landlords would feel less disposed to demand stiff rents. On Wednesday nearly every desirable office on the South side had been rented or spoken for.

The Government offices having removed from the Honore Block to the Pullman Building, nearly an entire floor in that block is now vacant and for rent. Clark St. property is undoubtedly coming up in the estimation of owners who see a handsome improvement in the forthcoming granite pavement. The much talked of new opera house and office bulding to be built on the Southwest corner of Clark and Washington Sts.. is a further indication that Clark St., between Van Buren and Washington, is going to have a boom. Snide Doctors, cheap roomers, and gambling dens should be "fired bodily," if the atmosphere on this most central thoroughfare is to be purified. The Journal predicts a bright future for Clark St., and will continue to advocate its improvement.

Agents who are not wholly absorbed with the matter of renting, report continued activity in sales, but as usual at this time of the year, very few large transactions.

Real Estate and Insurance agents should not fail to read "The Handle of the Golden Spoon," on last page of cover. No advertisement.

Minneapolis.

Agents dealing in lots ranging in value from $300 to $800, have done a steady business all winter, and have their hands full at the present time. There have been a few large sales in the business portion at good prices, among which was 22 feet on Fifth St., adjoining the Knickerbocker block, which brought $550 a foot front, making a total of $12,500.

The desirability of business blocks is particularly noticed of late, and tends to show that the prices asked for business property are attractive to capitalist seeking good security or speculation in investments.

St. Paul.

Inquiries and sales continue steady, and prices remain at about last week's quotations, although the prospects are that in the rural districts there will be a steady advance from now on, in consequence of the many proposed improvements. The demand for small homes is still large, and is the best possible evidence of the city's continued growth.

Speculation in property of any description is very rare, nearly, if not quite all sales made being for immediate improvement. This is true of large, as well as small sales.

Gas Fixtures.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the W. C. Vosburgh Mfg. Co., wholesale and retail dealers in gas fixtures, at 184 and 186 Wabash av. At their store, which is one of the finest and most complete in this line in the city, they are showing some beautiful new designs in chandeliers. halls, etc. They also make a specialty of fine cheap fixtures for flats and small houses. and being manufacturers, are enabled to sell at very low prices. Those needing fixtures would do well to visit their elegant showrooms, and examine prices and styles.

GOTHAM ENTERPRISE.

The North Central Park Improvement Company have bought the lot on the southeast corner of Eighth avenue and One hundred and Sixteenth st., N. Y., upon which it is proposed to erect a building in which will be placed four powerful elevators for the accommodation of passengers on the elevated road at that point. This, it will be remembered, is the highest station on either of the "L" roads, being fully 60 feet from the ground. The building will be a fine one and the lower floors will be for stores. The elevators will be free to passengers on the road, which will make it the most accessible station in the city. The capital stock of the association is $100,000 and its principal stockholders are John J. Astor, J. H. Sherwood, Simon Sterne, Edward J. King, D. R. Kendall and J. D. Crimmins. Owners of lots north of Central Park and east of Morningside Park are offered a share of stock for every lot they own, par value, fifty dollars a share. The Improvement Company will, it is expected, pay dividends. and it is believed the erection of this building will add a thousand dollars in value to every lot in that region. The height of this station, as compared with One Hundred and Thirty fifth street station, is given as the reason why building has gone up from One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street rather than down from that point. It is expected to have the elevator in operation early in the autumn.

The new warehouses under the Brooklyn bridge, between Rose and Vandewater streets, have been nearly completed. and are to be ready for occupancy on May 1. There are five of them, and they have been leased by paper, leather and fur merchants, at the rate of from $1,800 to $1,900 a year. The warehouses have each two stories and a cellar, and are said to be fire-proof, no wood having been used except for the doors and windows, and coverings for the iron and brick floors. They will be furnished with elevators, and power and heat will be supplied by the steam-heating companies. The bridge arches between William and Rose streets will also be converted into warehouses, but will not be ready this year.

BE CANDID.

From the Northwestern Improvement Record.

The success of real estate agents depends largely upon the manner in which they do business. Candor in all things relating to sales and transfers is in an eminent degree important. Very often the information derived from the agent causes an outlay of expense, time, and fatigue, and it must always be a source of the greatest gratification to the candid and honest man to find that he is gaining and retaining the confidence of all who have business with him. Sometimes it may happen the agent himself is deceived, but one deception of this kind s hould be enough to put him on his guard, and before venturing to give recommendatio ns and assurances, and sending customers on useless errands to look at property differing in important particulars from the discription, he should make personal inspection of the property placed in his hands for disposal.

Moreover, sales of real estate can be effected, as of any article of sale, for the full value, when the whole truth is told, as when a portion of it is purposely concealed. The truth unuttered at the commencement of the negotiation is apt to be discovered before it terminates, and usually to the permanent injury of the one who conceals it.

To purchasers, the real estate agent is a necessity. Whether the buyer be a resident or stranger, he can obtain more thorough satisfaction regarding the locality chosen from an agent, without cost, than all the outlay of money. time, fatigue, and traveling alone would bring.

THE HANDLE OF THE GOLDEN SPOON.

Had our foresight been as good as our hindsight, what great strikes we might have made. The opportunities are greater to-day than yesterday, but we lack the wisdom, witchcraft, call it what you will, to see results which, when they are complete, we mentally club ourselves that we had not all along recognized as the inevitable. The mournful requiem of "Lost Opportunities" will be sung by the great majority, yet a little while at least.

Running over the history of the local agencies in Chicago, from 1860 to date, it would seem as though the Board of Trade had been a sort of "Head Center" for the fraternity. Whenever the Board winked, insurance bobbed its head; when the Board moved south the insurance agencies moved south, and if otherwise, than 'totherwise.

In 1860 nearly all insurance agencies in Chicago were located on Clark, Lake, and South Water streets, were scattered, poorly quartered, and unlettered in the science of underwriting. (The agents were not then aware of this latter fact, nor are they posted with regard to themselves at the present time).

It was only after the great fire of 1871 that insurance began to concentrate locally. Little by little, "chunk by chunk," the interest centered at the extreme north end of the street. Then began a sort of "spelling class" movement. The agent who had stood at the foot of the class (the north end), spelled "Baker" with a "k" and went up ahead, only to let some other agent skip grinning by on some unlucky word of his predecessor. Slowly, surely, La Salle street grew up in office buildings to the southward. No commercial interests were encouraged (except a few necessary dealers in wet goods), and to-day the street is firmly rooted in its fate. One of the oldest local agents in the city said to the writer a few days ago that he had now for the third time been "left out in the cold" north end of the line. Three times he had moved his office to the extreme south end of the insurance district and had seen the whole fraternity file slowly by. Each spring (wild geese go north in spring), the line of march is taken up—who leads to-day is left behind to-morrow.

The great square bounded by Van Buren, Jackson, Sherman, and Pacific, will soon be occupied by two immense office buildings. The Board of Trade and Armour's Building. These will be the center of all financial interests for the Great Northwest, and La Salle street will be the "handle of this golden spoon," the Wall street of Chicago, the great financial artery.

It is now easy to see that the fire of '71 had much to do with locating this golden spoon. It made possible the opening of La Salle street, which, until a few years ago, was broken off at Monroe (one block north of Adams), and cleared the way for the location of the new Board of Trade.

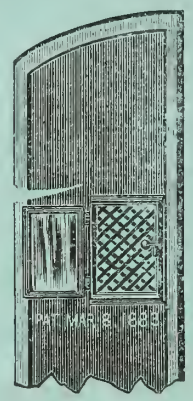
"The "financial plant" of Chicago is not star-shaped, with a central point radiating in all directions, but rather is in spoon-shape as above noted. All streets leading to the bowel (except La Salle) are more or less occupied for commercial (mercantile) purposes, and will so remain.

The fact that Marshall Field has projected an eleven story office building on southwest corner of La Salle and Monroe, evidences the opinion of a successful business man.

It is safe to say that (next to the Board of Trade), the insurance interests have been instrumental in shaping this golden spoon. Had our agents in a body moved over to Dearborn street three years ago, the handle would have moved the spoon, or in other words, the Board would not have located on La Salle between Van Buren and Jackson. The location of street car lines on the south side has also had much to do with the situation. There is no radiating center in the business district that will accomodate all the offices incidental to insurance, real estate, commission, etc., etc., and not bulge out across some street car line. The prejudice against streets so occupied is well known. Looking at the spoon, as yet but in the model, waiting for the molder, we have a faint conception of the cause, much less can we imagine the effect. Opportunities are to-day thicker on La Salle street than candidates before the caucus. To all but a few these opportunities will be lost.

The man who was offered the city of Chicago for a pair of boots and declined because he did not have the boots, had small use for self-discrimination, but he, who, having the wherewithal gets left through laziness or want of pluck, deserves to go further and fare worse. The past of La Salle street, as viewed in connection with the struggles of insurance, is interesting in a historical way. The street is strewn with, and responsible for, the ruins of many a company.

At present La Salle street and insurance have finished their weary wanderings, and if they have wit enough will settle down—occupy the land. Choice of location is open to all—will be pre-empted by the worldwise few. The future of the Golden Spoon must be, will be simply immense.—Novis.



A. W. Herr & Co.,

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

LUMBER.

There is a revival in the cargo market, and the docks begin to exhibit signs of activity, but a market, in the full sense of the word, can hardly be said to exist. It is believed by cargo dealers that the yards are very short of dry strips and boards, as indicated by a sharp inquiry for that class of material.

Piece stuff has sold at $9 at $10, while for dry 6-inch strips and boards the following figures are reported: Culls $6.50. C. $7.50; No 2. $12 to $12.50; medium $13 to $15, and No. 1, $16. and $20.

The yard trade is in a satisfactory conditon, but there seems to be a growing dissatisfaction among dealers in regard to prices, There has been trouble over this question more or less for the last two or three years, and ihe adoption, at the last meeting of the Lumbermen's Exchange, of two price lists, one for the city trade and another for the country, seems to have increased the dissatisfaction. It is said that local lumber dealers do not adhere to the price lists, as adopted by the Exchange. The following is the wholesale pard price list for May.

First, second, and third clears, 1 1-4@3 inch	$45.00@49.00
A and B, select, 1 1-4@2 inch	34.00@41.00
First, second, and third clear finishings	41.00@47.00

Buying up Black Walnut.

Large quantities of this lumber have been going East from Ohio, Indiana, and Iowa, and is attracting the attention of lumber dealers.

A Company of English capitalist, with whom a wealthy combination in Indianapolis is co-operating, have been for a year or more quietly getting possession of all the black walnut timber that could be bought, and are shipping it to England.

The traveler by rail through the walnut belt, will see at nearly every important station portable steam saw-mill sat work early and late, ripping up black walnut logs into planks of convenient size for shipment.

The company has had buyers out all through the States mentioned, gathering up walnut trees wherever they could be found. In many cases the farmers have disposed of their trees at prices far below their value, and it has only been recently that they became aware of the scheme that is to take out of the country the most of the remaining black walnut timber in it. The consequence is that all the walnut the company now buy costs them double the price they were paying a few months ago.

If the original forests of Ohio and Indiana were now standing, their valuation would be many times more than it is to-day under improvement. In making their farms the settlers in these States destroyed millions of dollar's worth of black walnut, and the destruction ceased not more than 20 years ago. The English company will send to England probably $5.000.000 worth of walnut that they have purchased from the farmers at almost nominal prices.

Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, May 10, 1884.

THE MARKET.

Never before in the history of Chicago was palatial residence building carried to such an extent as it is at the present time. The high prices paid for building sites on the best residence streets and avenues in the city, are and can be afforded by no other class of purchasers. The most desirable vacant property on Washington boulevard, west of Ashland ave. has been taken by rich men during the lastt wo years, and is now being improved. Wm. Ripley's building, on the northwest corner of Leavitt, and the residence to be build by Mr. Martin, of Case & Martin, on the northeast corner of same street and the boulevard, will add greatly to the appearance of that location.

Ex-commissioner Albright, who bought ground near Central Park, on Washington street, at $65 per foot within three years, now asks $210 a foot for it. Property on Warren and Park avenues is held up by owners in spite of the broken and rough condition of the streets, at about $125 per foot in the vicinity of Leavitt street, decreasing in the direction of the railroad, and increasing toward Ashland avenue but slightly.

At corresponding distances from the court house, on Michigan boulevard, and even out so far as 35th st., values are more than double, ranging from $400 to $500 per foot. The filthy and unsafe condition of Washington street tunnel and the brigdge nuisance on the West side, are the prime causes of this difference in values on the most prominent thoroughfares of the two sides. The most prominent features noticeable in Real Eestate market of Chicago at thepresnt time are (1) active inquiry and stiff prices for central business property; (2) numerous sales throghout the city and suburbs of medium priced residence property, and (3) a limited demand for costly residence sites in favored localities on all sides of the city, with a preference shown for the South side and Hyde Park.

New York.

As a storm is generally followed by a calm so the ardent purchases of a week or two ago have been succeeded by comparative inanimation. The sales were well attended, but the majority had evidently assembled more from curiosity than for purchase, and as there was less competition lower prices were realized, and many excellent pieces of property brought less than their value. Indeed, so to speak, the last two weeks have proved buyer's rather than seller's days, although the former were in no haste to embrace their advantages. A large business, however, was transacted, and though much of the property offered was withdrawn, a large portion was disposed of. The confidence remains, however, unabated, and we still anticipate a large bnsiness before the spring dealings terminate.—Real Estate and Ins. Journal.

A NEW MOVEMENT TO SECURE IMPROVED TENEMENTS.

The Society for Ethical Culture says the Sanitary Engineer, under the direction of Prof. Felix Adler has inaugurated a move ment, on a somewhat new basis, to secure better tenements in New York City. The fundamental idea is to induce capitalists, from philanthropic motives, to enter the project and consent to accept 3 per cent. on the money invested in erecting the buildings, etc. There are in Prof. Adler's hands about $40,000 which has been contributed. Whatever opinion be formed of the practicability of such a plan on a very large scale, it is of so much interest that we have obtained from Prof, Adler some notes on the motive and plans of its projectors.

It is to be understood in the beginning that all that the company itself is committed to is the 3-per cent. item; that the capitalists who advance the funds consent to accept that return for their money. But the ideas which have led to it are given simply as Prof. Adlers individually.

It is asserted by him that to improve the tenement-houses an appeal must be made to the higher motives. If people are asked to go into a movement of this kind on strict business principles they will refuse, because the returns are not large enough to induce them to do so. Consequently. in a considerable degree, he thinks the ownership of tenement property is with those who have gone into it to realize exorbitant profits by forcing the poor who are restricted in the regions they can occupy by such considerations as nearness to business, to pay rents altogether out of proportion to accommodations. The result is, the wretched tenements and a disinclination on the part of many capitalists to invest where they must compete with the majority of the present owners.

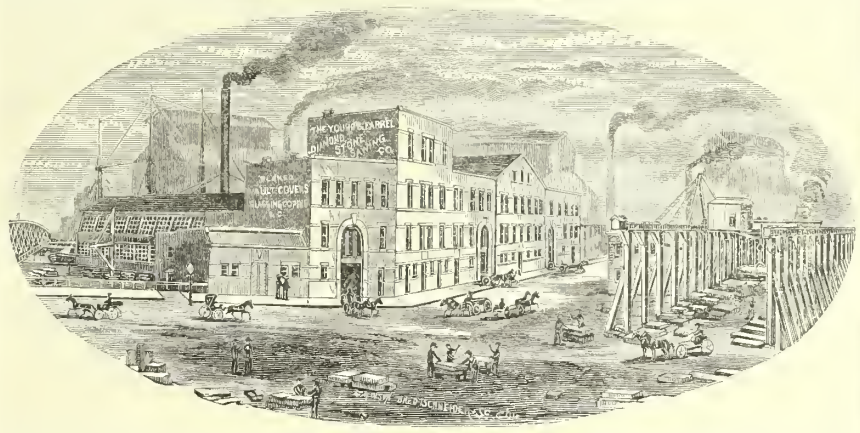
Prof. Adler believes that he can find a sufficient number of people who are influenced by humanitarian considerations to start a tenement-reform movement on a different basis. He believes there is enough philanthropy aboard in the community to respond to an appeal directed to such motives, provided they are kept distinct from business considerations, which the capitalists who must be appealed to will pronounce impracticable of realization.

The present movement is intended to result in the building of one model tenement, which is expected to serve as an incentive to induce other religious and charitable associations to follow, Prof. Adler on this point suggests that every church organization which is able should build one model building. If this could be done an impetus would be given to the movement which would carry it a long way. While, therefore, the present move is in the nature of a small experiment, the suggestion is thrown out that ultimately there should be a union of the church and charitable associations in one central organization having charge of tenement reform and responsible for the mangement of the buildings.



While it is a settled feature of the present movement that the contributors shall receive but three per cent., Prof. Adler expects the building will pay more than that—say six to eight per cent. After interest and expenses are paid, Prof. Adler proposes to form of the remainder a sinking fund, to be accumulated until sufficient to wipe out the cost of building, after that is accomplished the tenants shall have their premises rent free, and perhaps be made the owners of them. But it is not intended to allow tenants any control over the sinking fund; that is to be solely directed by the company.

The gentlemen interested are, it is said, now considering the proper construction of the proposed building, and have received the advice of several architects. It is expected that the building will be erected this spring. Prof. Adler advocates a competition for plans as soon as the project shall have advanced so far.

The old Exchange building, at the corner of Washington and Clark sts., is being razed to the ground, to make way for the new structure.

Snow & Dickinson.

Among the most promising of young firms starting up this spring is the firm of Snow & Dickinson, the formation of which has just been announced. They have secured one roomy ground floor offices at No. 97 Washington street, a central location for a Real Estate office. Their intention is to conduct a general Real Estate business, buying and selling, negotiating loans on Real Estate at the best market rates, and the general care and management of estates for non-residents and local owners. The firm is composed of Edgar M. Snow, junior partner, for many years in the firm of H. C. Morey & Co., and Theo. G. Dickinson, for many years in the firm of F. B. Peabody & Co. Both these gentlemen have had the best of training, and bid fair to make a marked success in their new departure. With their own personal popularity, and their A1 financial standing and resources, there seems to be no reason that they should not have good business from the very beginning. The REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL wishes success to them in their new undertaking.

Carpenters and Builders.

We take pleasure in recommending to those who are in need of fine office fittings or repairing, the firm of Geo. A. Arnold Co., so long located at the rear of 82 Dearborn St., Court Place. The firm is composed of Geo. A. Arnold and John Taggart, who have the capacity to do the finest cabinet work, model and construct buildings, etc. They have recommedations from prominent Real Estate men and other business houses in the city. They received the contract for repairing the building occupied by C. L. Jevne, which was so wrecked on the inside by fire some months ago. This as well as many others, are testimonials of their ability and skill.

One of the most enterprising firms in the Paper hanging and Paint business in this city is that of J. McDermott. His store at 242 31st street is about the most completely furnished of any in his line. His special designs of hand painted hangings are extremely pleasing to the eye, and display a quality of taste and workmanship unequalled. His paint shop at 133 Monroe street is used as a down town office, and is well known by all Real Estate men, as is Mr. McDermott himself.

Wood Carpet, Parquet and Inlaid Floors, Wainscots, Ceilings, Etc.

No business has acquired so much celebrity as the manufacture of Wood Carpet, Parquet and Inlaid Floors, Wainscots, etc, which are everywhere acknowledged to possess unmistakable advantages over the old time floor, inasmuch as they are more healthy, easier to keep clean, and very much more economical, lasting many years longer than carpets or wall paper. No wonder then that East, West, North and South they have been largely introduced into nearly all the palatial residences, as well as less pretentious, though elegant homes which adorn our large cities and country towns. They are also used for and give great satisfaction in parlors, dining, bath and sitting rooms, nurseries, halls, vestibules, basements, offces, banks, hotels, drug and other stores, billiard rooms, school rooms, dancing halls, etc.

We notice that the largest manufacturers and dealers in Wood Carpets in this city, Messrs. Dennis & Co., 11 E Adams st., have perfected a new process of manufacture which greatly lessens the amount of labor required, thus enabling them to undersell all others in that liue. Messrs. Dennis & Co. are prepared to supply working drawings, and will make any kind of a pattern which may be desired. It will repay any of our patrons intending to refurnish or furnish a house anew to send to Dennis & Co. for their Catalogue, which will give them a more correct idea of the beautiful designs, durability, cleanliness, healthfulness and cheapness of this style of Carpet, Wainscotting, etc., than in a necessarily brief description it would be possible for us to do. In conclusion we might state that Messrs. Dennis & Co. are a firm of the highest standing and integrity, and if you can appreciate first class work and low prices you will get both at their office, at 11 E Adams st., Chicago.

Barker's Champion Radiator.

What Prof. Blaney says of it:

The unprecedented progress of the mechanical arts, within the last half-century, can not but strike all thinking minds with surprise and admiration.

The increase of wealth and the advance of civitization have created new wants, which can be satisfied only by new or improved inventions, based on correct scientific principles.

The supply of the home comforts, and of appliances for the maintenance of health have properly received much attention and valuable contributions from intelligent inventors and artizans; none, perhaps, more prominently than the perfection of apparatus for heating and ventilation. Notwithstanding the assistance so freely contributed by the developments of science, the inventor finds his abilities taxed to their highest tension to overcome the immediate obstacles which obstruct the attainment of a well-merited and remunerative success.

These reflections have been suggested by a critical examination of a highly-improved Heating Furnace, known as "Barker's Champion Radiator," which appears to me to embrace more of the essentials of success, and to avoid more objectionable features than any one of many which I have heretofore examined.

The prominent objects to be obtained by a perfect hot-air apparatus may be enumerated as follows:

1. Economy of fuel.
2. Capability to furnish a large and sufficient supply of moderately heated air.
3. Diffusion of a regulated supply of vapor of water, to aviod too great dryness of the air escaping from the air-chamber.
4. Avoidance of possible leakage of the products of combustion from the furnace into the air-chamber.

This Radiator is the result of thirty years' study and experiment by Mr. J. R. Barker, and is simply perfect.

The mechanical construction of this Furnace, from the fire-pot to the upper dome, is of cast-iron, sufficiently heavy, so as to resist warping or cracking, caused by the intense heat which these parts are subjected to; the return-pipes or flues are made of heavy, well-riveted sheet-iron, which radiates heat much more quickly than cast-iron; the fire-pot, the seat of power, is very large and suitably proportioned to each size furnace, extra heavy, to prevent its being warped out of shape, with corrugated surface, giving addltional heating surface and strength, and of globular shape, being best adapted for perfect combustion of gas and smoke.

I feel confident in recommending a careful examination of this new and excellent invention to all persons interested in procuring the comfort to be derived from a hot-air apparatus.

JAMES V. Z. BLANEY,
Analytical and Consulting Chemist.

Chicago, Sept. 30, 1874.

Barker & Jackson—Gentlemen—After several years' experience with furnaces for housc warming, I have found yours the most satisfactory of any, and take pleasure in recommending it in the strongest terms: It is well built, simple, easily managed, and the most economical furnace I have ever used, burning but 4½ tons last winter, from November to May, while my neighbors, living in same style of house (2 story and basement, marble front, 3 rooms deep), were burning from 8 to 15 tons of coal, in other furnaces, with less comfort.

Yours truly, W. K. REED,
Chicago, June 26, 1883. Treas. Dime Savings Bank

Upon application Messrs. Barker & Jackson will furnish a Descriptive Catalogue which also gives a list of names and addresses of parties now using their Radiator.

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved Ventilator and Coal-hole Vault Covers. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation aud three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attentiou to our new and indispensable "Eureka" Ventilator and Fire Locater, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

Snow & Dickinson.

Among the most promising of young firms beginning business this spring is the firm of Snow & Dickinson, the formation of which has just been announced. They have secured roomy ground floor offices at No. 97 Washington street, a central location for a Real Estate office. Their intention is to conduct a general Real Estate business, buying and selling, negotiating loans on Real Estate at the best market rates, and the general care and management of estates for non-residents and local owners. The firm is composed of Edgar M. Snow, junior partner, for many years in the firm of H. C. Morey & Co., and Theo. G. Dickinson, for many years in the firm of F. B. Peabody & Co. Both these gentlemen have had the best of training, and bid fair to make a marked success in their new departure. With their own personal popularity, and their A1 financial standing and resources, there seems to be no reason that they should not have good business from the very beginning. The REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL wishes success to them in their new undertaking.

THE TIMBER FAMINE.

From the must reliable data at my command I make the following statement: The area of the United States, including Alaska, is 2,306,380,000,000 acres. Of this, it is stated officially, 560,000,000 are in woodland chiefly belonging to private parties. In other words, taking our area as a whole, we have about 16½ per cent. remaining in forest growth. Of this we must remember that a large proportion represents lands which have been cut over and are now covered with immature growth of good timber, or with trees of such kind as have no great commercial value. It will, no doubt, be surprising to learn that as a whole Europe has 28 per cent. of its area remaining in forest. This, however, is very unevenly distributed, and, to be of further use as a point of comparison, we must examine into the timber statistics of each important district. The percentages taken in this are: Sweden and Norway, 40; Russia, 39; Austro-Hungary, 23; Germany, 23; Switzerland, 19; Italy, 17; France, 16; Belgium, 13; Spain, 11; Portugal, 6, and Great Britain and Ireland about 3. None of those countries which have less timber land than abont 17 per cent. of their total area have sufficient wood to get along with. At this hour, so far as I can estimate, we have not more than 16.47 per cent. This gives 1.47 per cent. between ourselves and want, so far as our industries are concerned.

Of all civilized countries driven to make the largest use of iron and to exercise the greatest economy in wood Great Britain heads the list. Here, then, we might suppose there existed the greatest ability to dispense with it. Her importations of wood were valued at $77,963,399 a year from 1872 to 1876, or $2.60 worth for each soul per annum.—Prof. Rothrock, of the Pennsylvania University.

LUMBER MARKET.

Lumbsr thus far this season has been $1 to $1.50 lower than a year ago, and shingles have ruled about 50 cents a thousand lower than last spring, leaving but little or no profit to manufacturers, and the move to cease production has not yet been carried out to any considerable extent, for want of agreement among them. A majority of shingle mills have no facilities for manufacturing anything else, and it is predicted that some of them will turn to the manufacture of lumber if prices of shingles do not advance. Several cargoes of cedar posts, railroad ties and telegraph poles have been shipped from Alpena, Mich., to this port since the opening of navigation, most of which were sold ahead.

The delightful weather has had the effect to bring about more or less improvement in all branches of the business. On Wednesday and Thursday there was the usual supply of about 13 to 16 cargoes per day of lumber and shingles at the lumber sales docks, and trade was sufficiently animated to take the greater part of the supply.

But little choice inch lumber is coming on the market, and an occasional cargo of selects is sold at $21 @ $23.

At Minneapolis the outlook for the lumber trade is very favorable. The increase in prices of $1. a thousand all around practically restores the price to what it was earlier in the year, when, by common consent and the result of an overstock, a general reduction was made. The recent heavy rains having raised the smaller streams, logs are coming down now in large quantities. Nearly all the mills are now running, although no night work has been attempted as yet.

THE

Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, May 17, 1884.

THE MARKET.

Real estate and building operations are so closely connected that it is impossible to treat of one as a subject without reference to the other. In the choice of investments in real estate buyers are governed by what they can figure out as a profit to be derived by improving the same, either for business, residence or manufacturing purposes, unless the purchase is made for their own use or occupancy.

The work of bnilding goes bravely on, notwithstanding the fact that agents have a few houses and stores left vacant. The fine improvements made on our parks and boulevards are having a good effect npon the price of residence lots in their vicinity. In all large cities of the world property adjoining parks is considered the most desirable for residence purposes, and will rise the most rapidly as improvements are made.

Building permits are applied for much earlier by builders now than formerly, and are filed for record as soon as transfers are perfected; hence the record columns will afford as much news as a lengthy article could possibly do. The building notes of other cities will be found of interest to builders and mannfacturers as well as Insurance companies.

As usual, Minneapolis papers claim a boom in real estate and building for that city, and great activity in St. Paul realty. the weekly summary of sales in the former, amounting to nearly a half milllion. Chicago has been rolling up a weekly aggregate of nearly a million and a half, including suburban sales. The "grand tumble" of stocks in New York, and several bank failures, have not visibly affected the financial standing of any Chicago house or bank.

A bill was filed in the Superior Cout, on Tuesday, by the trustees of the Malcom Mc Neil estate, asking for authority to lease for 99 years the valuable property on the Southwest corner of Clark and Jackson sts., fronting 50 feet on the former, and 215 feet on the latter. The property can now be leased for $20,000 a year. The complainants propose to lease it for that amount for the first 10 years, and afterwards at the rate of 6% on a valuation of the land.

Should the bill for an appropriation for a pnblic library building in Dearborn Park become a law, a move will be made at once to erect a building that will reflect credit upon Chicago.

There is also a bill before Congress for the erection of a National library building at Washington, but it is doubtful whether the bill will be reached this session.

Concerning those Boulevard assesments for boulevard from Douglas Park to the Illinois and Michigan canal, it is claimed that a piece of property worth $2650 was taxed $4.95; another worth $6700, taxed $4.80, and a third worth $5000, taxed $5.40. The Park commissioners answer that the assessment was not made for the construction of the boulevard, but for the purchase of land which had already been condemned by the Circuit court for boulevard purposes. The taxes to be paid this year are upon assesments made in 1883, and the time has passed for corrections.

BUILDING IN HYDE PARK.

At Oakwood and Drexel boulevards, Mr. Parmelee is building a fine hotel costing $100,000, the ground being 90x163 feet, of brick, with modern improvements.

Scores of new and substantial dwellings are under construction, and many of them receiving the finishing touches, as follows: The block being built by W G Wilson at the southwest corner of Oakwood and Lake aves. In this same block elegant residences are being finished for F. H. Hibbard and J. H. Conrad, and Mr. O. L. Wheelock has just commenced a $15,000 house on Ellis ave. front. Mr. Burnett is building a commodious brick on Forty-seventh street, between Lake and Woodlawn aves., and Messrs. O. W. Potter and R. Strahorn are buildlng in the same locality. The Kenwood Club house is being thoroughly remodeled to suit the purpose for which it is intended. R. R. Donnelly has a handsome brick under construction on Jefferson avenue, near Fifty-first street. These comprise only the leading residences built in the extreme part of the village. A hotel and music hall are the next prospective buildings, both of them to be located on Jefferson avenue, one to occupy the southeast, and the other the southwest corner of Fifty-sevonth street. There are practically no houses to rent at present, and what few were available were taken in advance of May 1. The Washington Park Club gronnds are being finished, and make a good appearance. The ground was broken for a $25,000 school building, athe corner of Sixty-first street and Wabash ave. It will be finished by September. Woodlawn, South Park, Hegewisch, South Chicago, Stony Island, and Pullman are active, and the location of a large cotton factory at the last-named point is the subject of considerable talk. There have been no less than ninety building permits issued from the Comptroller's office since April, as against eight for a corresponding period last year.

In May, 1872. but a few months after the fire of 1871, and after two hundred millions' worth of property had been destroyed by the conflagration, valuations reached the sum $284,000,000. Ten years thereafter, however, with a doubled population (and consequent increase of values) and a replacement of property destroyed largely more valuable than that burned, valuations fell to the insignificant sum of $125,358,537, reaching the lowest limits in 1880—$117,133,643.

The finances of the city have been managed with prudence and economy, and the year safely passed without any resort to methods of the old "scrip days" preceding 1879. The receipts last year were: From saloon licenses, $385,643.82, of which $20,000 was set aside, under the State law, for the Washingtonian home, an increase over the preceding year of $189,702.45, due to the raising of license fees from $52 to $103; from licenses other than saloons, $250,239.22, an increase of $85,258.08, and from the two per cent. tax levy $2,664,610.08, an increase of $157,439.44. Taking as a basis the amount of money already paid in for saloon licenses for the four months expiring on August 7 next, the probability is that during the municipal year of 1884-5 the receipts from this source will reach fully $1,200,000; but had the clamors of a partisan press been heeded prior to July 1, 1883, a sum far less than that would only have been secured.—Mayor's Message.

THE MONTAUK BLOCK SAVED.

Nearly one year ago this Journal published an article on "Fire Proof Building Materials," calling attention to the materials used and means employed by the Wight Fire Proofing Co. of Chicago and New York. The Montauk Block, on Monroe street of this city, was mentioned as one of the buildings in which the materials and work of the company were employed.

On the 30th of last December the above named building was exposed to a severe test in the fire which burned out Bradner, Smith & Co.'s wholesale paper house and destroyed the building immediately adjoining on the west of the Montauk Block and the one in the rear, which was only separated from it by an alley from 12 to 18 feet wide.

The cost of the building was $225,000, and the insurance loss, as subsequently adjusted, was only $2,800. Read the following testimonial of Owen F. Aldis, agent of P. C. Brooks, Esq., of Boston, owner of the building.

THE WIGHT FIRE PROOFING CO., Chicago.

GENTLEMEN:—I have very great pleasure in bearing testimony to the efficacy of the work done by you in the Montauk Block as a protection against fire. The block, as you are aware, was exposed to a most severe test in the fire which occurred on Sunday afternoon, 30th ult. The building immediately adjoining on the west and the one in the rear, the latter only separated from us by an alley from 12 to 18 feet, were destroyed, and for three or four hours "The Montauk Block" was, on two sides, enveloped in flames. Your fire proof tile arches and roofing stood the test most thoroughly, and, notwithstanding the intense heat and the flames which were thrown against the building, the loss has been small, and mainly confined to breakage of glass and burning of window frames and sashes. In one room the flames burned all the furniture, but were unable to spread to the adjoining rooms. But for your fire-proofing the loss would have been serious.

I am yours very truly,

OWEN F. ALDIS.

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

LIABILITY OF MORTGAGOR FOR MORTGAGED PREMISES.—If upon sale of the mortgaged premises under a decree of foreclosure enough is realized to cover the amount due and expenses of foreclosure and sale, it would have effect to cancel the notes. If, after the sale, there is a deficiency, the liability of the maker of the notes would continue unless the notes are paid.—Legal Adviser.

MECHANICS' LIEN — SUB-CONTRACTOR.—If the sub-contractor has taken the proper steps, under the statute, to perfect his lien, yet he cannot enforce the same, unless it shall appear that money is due from the owner to the original contractor, and only to the extent of the amount then due from such owner to such contractor. See Rev. Stat., Chap. 82, § 37. HAINES' TREATISE, new ed., p. 892.

REAL ESTATE LICENSES. — The Supreme Court has decided that the license law, as applied to real estate and merchandise brokers, is valid. The license is $25 a year.

EJECTMENT — ADVERSE POSSESSION.—The opinion of the Court of Appeals of Maryland, by ROBINSON, J., holding that where the the tenant can show possession, adverse and uninterrupted for a period of twenty years, by himself and those under whom he claims, he will be held to have acquired title.

LIABILITY OF ATTORNEY ON EXAMINATION OF TITLE.—The opinion of the United States Circuit Court for the District of Oregon, by DEADY, J., holding, where a party was about to loan money on real estate and employed an attorney to examine the title, and such attorney examined the title and gave a certificate thereof, that the attorney was liable to the party who employed him for any loss he might sustain, on account of any error or mistake in the certificate arising from a want of ordinary professional skill and care in the preparation of it, and not otherwise; but he was not liable to any third person, there being no privity of contract between them.

Under the Revenue law of 1872, the city has had to pay two per cent. for collections of taxes due the ciiy. The question as to who should get the two per cent. has been decided by the supreme court; which held that after the sum of $1,500 had been paid the collector, the surplus should be paid to the city of Chicago. This is a reverseal of the finding of the lower court, which held that the money should be paid the towns in which collected.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

BUILDING.

Building, like the real estate business, has suffered somewhat the past week, scarcely anything of moment having been done. The buildings now in course of erection have been pushed forward as fast as possible as these cannot be affected to any great extent by the uncertain condition of the money market, as those who commenced building before the panic in the east had determined upon expending so much money upon the building to be erected and have provided for it. The only effect noticeable being that just now there is a disinclination to project new buildings. Common brick is again becoming plenty and can be bought for $7.50 and $8. There has been no particular change in prices of building materials, dealers in which report a fair trade. The leading architects do not look for a boom in building until the financial market has regained its firmness. A glance at the building permits issued the past week will show what has been done in that line.

We learn that the contracts on the Willett block on Madison street will be let this week and work commenced at once; also that of the Illinois club house on Ashland avenue, and the Memoury block on Van Buren street. The Congregational Church of Englewood have purchased a lot on the south-east corner of Harvard and 64th streets, and will build a handsome church thereon, to cost $10,000. of which sum $5.000 has already been raised. The plans for the building will be submitted on Friday night, and the building pushed to a speedy completion.

LUMBER MARKET.

The lumber market has not been very brisk, although a fair demand has continued during the week. The arrivals have not been heavy, and outside dealers having nearly all secured their season's suppiy, the lumbermen are compelled to depend upon local consumption for business. Prices remain about the same as last reported, with a slight falling off in the total amount of business as comparad with last month.

The following is the price of lumber most in demand: Short green piece stuff $9@$9.25, cull boards $7@$8, No. 2 boards and strips $12@$12.50, medium do. $13@$16, standard shingles $2, extra $2.20@$2.30. Lath $1.85 for dry and $1.60 for good green. The lumbermen do not feel at all alarmed about the state of the financial market, as they say that as long as the excitement extends only to stocks, lumber cannot be affected to any great extent. A light business is always expected at this season, and as far as we can learn that of the past week has not been lighter than was to be expexted. Some even claim that it has been better than had been predicted some weeks ago; all, however, do not concur in that statement, but none seem to be very much dissatisfied with the present condition of the market.

THE MARKET.

The real estate market has been quiet for the past week, the natural result of the financial flurry in the east, which still has some ominous features about it, and further developments are awaited with a great deal of anxiety by the financial men here. Money is plenty, except at the banks, who refuse to lend on any collateral. This tightness is not occasioned by lack of funds, for the banks have plenty, but as one prominent cashier said, "We must prepare for the worst; we do not expect a run, but these financial flurries are like measles, catching, and there can be no telling where it will break out. The worst is undoubtedly over, but to be on the safe side we refuse loans now that a short time ago we should have been only too glad to have given." This feeling is general, and loan brokers are becoming more conservative in their loans. There has been a fair, but only a fair, demand for property. Prices have been maintained, and, no doubt, will be, as real estate cannot but be benefited by the stock panic in the end, but the best informed real estate men do not look for the benefit until fall. Another fact for which the quietness of the market is attributed by many is that this is presidential year, and as all business is more or less affected during the presidential contest, real estate is also affected. From these facts agents do not look for a large business in real estate this year, but all unite in declaring that there will be no unusual depression, the quietness now pervading being simply a halt to await developments.

There has been some inquiry for dwelling houses, and rents are being held stiff by some; others are reducing them $2 to $5 per month from the sum asked for during the house renting season. The demand for suburban property is fair, and with some agents brisk. To summarize, the market has been quiet, with nothing about it to cause any serious alarm, but rather denotes that it is in a healthy condition.

NEW YORK MARKET.

The real estate market in New York is unsettled, and very little has been done the past week. Buyers are not anxious to purchase until more confidence can be placed in financial matters. The auction sales have, for the most part, been well attended by non-buyers, who simply go to watch the market. Good business property brought fair prices, but no one seemed very eager to buy.

Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Building operations are reported very active in Minneapolis. Finnegan Bros. are to build a $21,000 four story block, on Hennepin Ave. Hill & Lindley a $25,000 44x120 business block on First Ave. and five stores with a frontage of 110 feet on Third street, to be erected by W. S. Potter, are among the notable projected buildings. The total amount of transfers at this point for week ending May 10, was $614,323.

The real estate market at St. Paul, Minn., is active, the total amount of transfers for week ending May 17, being $171,155. The building operations are progressing finely and bids fair to surpass those of 1883. Over fifty business blocks and a large number of private houses are in course of erection and builders have their hands full. The Stillwater failure has not effected the market to any extent.

CITY COUNCIL.

Alderman Manierre presented a petition from the Master Masons and builders, asking passage of an ordinance making the owners of a building liable for obstructing the streets.

The Commissioner of Public Works was authorized to advertise for bids for the completion of paving Dearborn Ave. with cedar blocks, from Chicago Ave. to N. Water St.

WILL CHICAGO OVERTAKE NEW YORK?

Under the above heading The Record and Guide, of New York, publish an interesting article showing the comparative growth of the two cities, from 1860 to 1880. The comparisons show that if the two cities should continue to increase in the same ratio of population in the future as in the past, (and there seems to be nothing to prevent Chicago from increasing its ratio), that in the year 1922 Chicago will have overtaken and passed New York, the figures showing that Chicago would have a population in that year of 3,498,205, while New York would have 3,420,291; in the year 1940, Chicago, 7,825,196, New York, 5,306,934. These figures do not take in the population of the suburbs of the two cities, which would naturally become part of each city by annexation, as has been the case of London and its suburbs, when these suburbs are absorbed, as they will be in the course of time, new York will then, of course, outstrip Chicago, and by the addition of Brooklyn, Jersey City, Newark, and some smaller towns adjacent, with their combined population and rate of increase, which would be 32 per cent., will, in 1958, have an equal population with London; in round numbers, 15,000,000. The ratio of increase in New York and Chicago for the twenty years from 1860 to 1880 has been 49.78 and 360.64 respectively, with a total population in 1880, New York, 1,206,390, Chicago, 503,304. The conclusions to be arrived at are that, independent of an-

A. W. Herr & Co.,

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

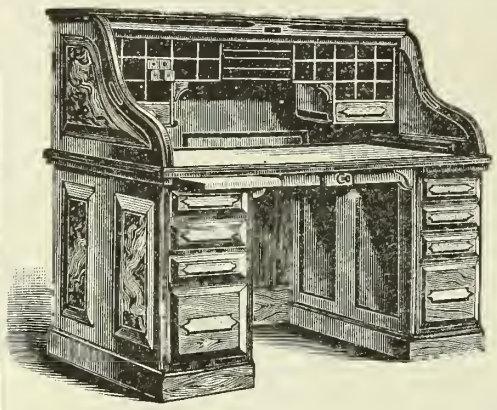
THE MANUFACTURE OF TERRA COTTA IN CHICAGO.

To inaugurate successfully the operations of a comparatively new industry entails upon its promoters a labor of detail little appreciated by those who have never attempted it. It not only requires courage, energy, thought and time, but, in the manufacture of Terra cottas, it also requires the expenditure of a large emount of money. Besides all this it is not to be denied that the smaller capitalist still lives much in ignorance of the great advantages of Terra Cotta as a building material. It has not yet taken hold of the masses, beiug still little known in the largest sphere of its usefulness. It therefore requires no small efforts of the manufacturers and architects to properly introduce it to the building public.

The "London Building News," of a recent date contained a long article on its present use in England. We will here only give the opening and closing lines on this interesting subject.

"A TERRA COTTA STYLE.

The larger employment of Terra Cotta as an architectural dressing promises to do something toward the development of a bolder style of street frontage than we have been in the habit of seeing. A few of the advantages of employing this material we have lately referred to in these pages, such as its durability compared with stone, and even with brick, in a smoke-charged atmosphere; but there is one other recommendation which it has over brick that may be mentioned now—namely, its determination of feature. The architecture of every great period has been determined in a very large degree by the materials employed. The processes of manufacturing concretes out of broken materials and debris has led to the production of large monoliths in construction, and burners of Terra Cotta have discovered the secret of moulding masses of clay without appreciable shrinkage or warping, that can take the place of stone. The re employment of these materials, cast in large forms, will take us back to the trabeate system of the Greeks."



In closing its able article the "Building News" says:

"In Faringdon Street, near Holborn Viaduct, a large warehouse for Marcus Ward & Co. is erected, in whlch a nice cream light red-toned Terra Cotta has been introduced in the red brickwork, blending well with the latter. The style is a free Rennaissance, a large, wide, and somewhat awkwardly proportioned gable occupying a considerable portion of the front, with one low wing. The center of gable has a bay window entirely of the material, and the large two and and three light windows, with mullions and ornamental heads, indicate the value of Terra Cotta for window openings of a large, flat kind. A deep cornice. wlth flat modeled trusses of slight projection and relief ornament between, runs along the front, and from this the raking cornice and coping, also of Terra Cotta, springs. Here the projections are kept flat. We could point to other recent examples of the use of the material; in the meantime the value of relief of a light kind, for red brickwork especially, and a tint that will harmonize with the red work and keep clean, are obvious advantages, not to be slightly passed over."

JOHN M. CARY, 171 La Salle St.

The "Real Estate and Building Journal" taking, naturally, a great interest in our local manufacturies, recently paid a visit to the works of the "Lake View Terra Cotta Company" at the corner of West Fifteenth and Laflin Streets, in this city. We had no idea that the manufacture of this simply molded clay required so extensive an establishment as we found there in full operation. Our space this week will only allow us to give a brief and general description of these works: On the eastern half of the first floor of a two-story structure, covering completely an area of 200 feet square, we found the motive power—the engines and boilers, the clay mills and grit crushers, the pug mills, the immense vaults for keeping the mixed clay moist, the steam drying floors for clay, and the molders and pressers at their work. The western half of this lower floor, separated from the eastern part by a passage way for teams, is occupied for store and fitting rooms and by three immense kilns or ovens, connected with a chimney 80 feet high. On the upper floor are the carving rooms for the artists, the plaster-mould and modeling departments and the drying floors for finished work before it goes into the kilns. These floors we found completely covered with artistically designed and carved work, in clay, ready for burning. The company have a large number of contracts under way for Burnham & Root, Willett, Baumann, Strippelman, Silsbee & Kent, Hansen and other local architects, besides a number for Detroit, Elgin, St. Louis and Sioux City architects. It has just finished a most elaborate front at 344 S. State Street, for Treat & Folz. Their establishment is unquestionably a pronounced success and certainly a credit to its promoters, among whom Otto Peltzer, Esq., the Secratary of the Company, is most prominent and active. The works are now under the immediate management and supervision of Mr. F. P. Meyenberg, a man of large practical experience and a most capable business man, lately in charge of the Boston and New Jersey factories.

The Landlord Killed Him.

A tenant dropped dead in Brooklyn the other day while talking to his landlord. It might have been heart-disease or apoplexy, but there is every reason to believe that the landlord in a moment of temporary aberration voluntarily offered to reduce the rent, paint the house from cellar to garret, and plug up the holes in the tin roof that has been faithfully leaking since the big hailstorm in '49.

LUMBER MARKET.

The lumber market has been steady and active this week. Cargoes have been easily disposed of at the docks, and manufactors feel satisfied generally, although there are some who feel that prices are not high enough for them. Prices have remained firm, and at a meeting of the Exchange an advance of $1 was made on some kinds of lumber, and some other was reduced that sum, thus equalizing the market prices. About twenty-five cargoes have arrived daily, and, as stated, no difficulty has been experienced in disposing of all that was offered. The business done the last month (May), while the exact figures are not at hand, will, nevertheless, be nearly as much as that of the preceding month, which was in excess of a year ago the corresponding month. The local demand has been good, and is, in fact, what dealers rely on just at this time, although outside orders have been somewhat numerous the past week, much to the surprise and satisfaction of merchants generally. From conversation with leading dealers we learn that manufacturers generally are becoming more and more conservative in their shipments, fearing to overstock the market and thus lower prices; some manufacturers are so fearful of this taking place that they have only been running their mills on half time, while others have done a great deal of piling. The reasons for these precautions is given out that at this time of the year a dull market is to be expected, and will continue until fall, the natural result being a drop in prices during the summer months; if shipments were to be continued as usual during these months the market would soon be so overstocked that the bottom would drop out entirely. It is therefore necessary that something should be done to avert this, and the mode adopted is that we have alluded to. In regard to the future of the market it is hard to predict; if confidence is restored in financial circles building operations may boom, and, of course, that would have the effect of stiffening prices, if however, and this seems more probable, the financial market should remain unsettled for some time, then the tendency of lumber would be to lower prices; this will not, in all probability, occur until the latter part of June, and continuing through July and August, when it is fair to presume that the market will go up, and those who should be in a position to know, say that an advance of $2 is confidently looked for in the fall months. The lumber exchange has sent out nearly 600 circulars to manufacturers, inquiring as to the prospect for the year, and from answers received they report everything favorable for a good supply of choice lumber during the coming season. Some alarm is felt in regard to the Hewitt tariff bill, which, among other things, would place lumber upon the free list; at the present outlook of affairs in the House no alarm need be felt upon this score. The Ways and Means committee do not seem to be in any hurry to report upon the bill, and even Mr. Hewitt concedes that if the bill is reported back favorably it could not pass the House, so it is safe to predict that the lumber market will not be disturbed by any legislation upon the lumber question during the present session of Congress. We shall watch closely all measures that shall arise that is at all likely to affect the market, and shall keep our readers well informed thereon. At the present writing the outlook is certainly bright.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The publisher takes pleasure in informing the readers and patrons of the Journal that Mr. C. V. C. Van Deusen, of Hudson, N. Y., and lately with the Daily Capital, of Des Moines, Iowa, is employed in an editorial and reportorial capacity, and will devote a portion of his time to out-door business matters in connection with the advertising and subscription departments. Mr. Van Deusen is authorized to collect and receipt for money due the publisher, and assist in the correspondence and general business affairs of the paper. In introducing him to our readers, we do so with the full assurance that they will assist him in his endeavors to make the Journal in the future what it has been in the past, the leading publication of its class in the West.

THE MARKET.

Real estate has been active the past week although no large transactions are reported, the average sale being about $4,000. The sales have consisted mostly of dwelling houses, although a fair business has been done with business property. The financial situation has not changed to any great extent—a feeling of uncertainty still pervading financial circles—and of course real estate is affected by it, but not to any alarming or even discouraging extent, for the reason that those who are most affected by the state of the market are men of large capital, who besides dealing in real estate, deal also in stocks and other so-called securities. These men are the only ones who feel disposed to hesitate about investing their money in real estate now. A sample case being a gentleman of this city who is, or has been negotiating for a piece of business property for which he was to pay $125,000 cash and the balance in acre property; when the flurry came, he stopped all proceedings in the matter and it still remains in abeyance. Men who have money and are not interested in stock gambling, are on the look-out for good property for investment purposes. Money is easy, on good first-class property security. Loan brokers report a good business, with rates at 6% and 7%. The banks are still very conservative in their loans. As was to be expected and as we predicted eastern capital is seeking investment in real estate here; a prominent insurance company having received $150,000 the past week from eastern parties. The only feature that occasions surprise in this matter, is the fact, that the capital has so soon commenced to flow in—we say commenced, because we believe that this is merely the advance guard of capital that will seek investment in securities that can be depended upon.

Suburban property has not been in very great demand, but the agents do not look for a big business, and with few exceptions were not disappointed. It is not to be expected that business will improve for the next month or two; next week the Republican convention will take place, and of course will interfere with regular business; after that is over, the market will not have much of a chance to brace up when the city will again be convulsed by another affliction in the shape of the Democratic convention; so it is safe to say that not much will be done in the real estate interests until the delegates to both conventions have electrified the world by their burning speeches and return to that obscurity from which they have been for a short time lifted.

The report from New York during the early part of the week, that some of the Chicago banks were involved in the failures in New York occasioned a feeling of anxiety that has not fully worn off yet, but for which there is no occasion. From talks with the cashiers and directors of the leading banks of the city, we can confidently say, that no alarm need be felt as to the stability of the Chicago banks. Rents are being reduced, or rather as the agents put it, "concessions are being made." The demand has not been very brisk for dwelling houses.

BUILDING.

Building has progressed in good style, the cool weather making work brisk. Building materials are in good demand with prices unchanged; the supply of common brick is being exhausted as fast as it is thrown on the market, and manufacturers are running their kilns to their utmost capacity. Pressed brick has been in great demand during the last ten days, the orders having increased 50 per cent.; this is owing to the fact that they could not be used until builders had received and used the common brick, and the shortage in the supply of the latter has caused the pressed brick market to suffer for a time. A large number of permits have been issued and there will be no lack of building operations during the season. Among new buildings are the following, the plans for which were prepared by architect J. J. Flanders. Four five-story buildings for Mr. Beidlers, on the corner of Washington and Union streets, the excavations for which have been commenced. A three-story five-room brick school house at Burling and Centre streets, also the Humboldt school opposite Humboldt Park, also the Thomas Hoyne school-house on Cass and Illinois streets, and also the Motley school-house on the corner of Snell street and Chicago avenue; the bids for which have been sent in and will be acted upon next week. Contracts have been let for the Foss and Monroe buildings opposite Jefferson Park, from plans from the same architect. The buildings will consist of a block of two houses and four three-story flats, all of pressed brick and terra cotta, to cost $75,000. Architect Halberg is preparing plans for the remodling of the house at Forty-fifth street and Grand boulevard, which was begnn a short time before the panic of 1873. Judge H. N. Sheppard has purchased the property, and will, besides remodling the honse, build a handsome brick barn on the premises. Architect A. Furber has prepared plans and is receiving bids for a Mission and Kindergarten building to be erected at the corner of Wentworth avenue and Bushnell street. The bids on the Illinois club-house closed on Thnrsday, and contracts will be awarded dnring the coming week. The contract for bnilding a ward of the new insane asylum has been awarded to Hansen & Co., whose bid was $68,230. The architects are quite busy preparing plans for a number of other large buildings, but do not wish them spoken of until the plans are completed. Plans have also been completed by architect Flanders for two houses 24x72 feet, Nos. 760 and 762 Washington boulevard, for Judge Berry, the foundations for which have been commenced. The buildings will be of ten rooms, each to cost $20,000, the architectnral style will be a blending of Elizabethian and Francis the First, the materials used being St. Louis pressed brick and terra cotta, with a neat light veranda of carved and turned wood. From the plans of the architect, the bnildings will be among the most artistic of the many handsome honses which adorn the boulevard.

The Real Estate Exchange.

The Real Estate and House Renting Association celebrated the occupancy of their handsome and commodious new quarters in the Arcade building, on Wednesday, by a "spread." About seventy-five members were present at the opening, and all seemed as happy as young children are usually supposed to be. We say all, for even those who had slipped up on a trade that was "as sure as fate, you know," seemed to catch the reflection at, least, of the good nature visible everywhere, and soon forgot their disappointments in the happy atmosphere which surrounded them. President H. C. Morey delivered the welcoming address in a very neat and effective manner, referring to the good work that had been done in the past by the Association, and predicting still greater success in the future, expressing the hope that the Association would "dwell together in the unity of spirit and in the bond of peace," the president sat down, after which one of the "boys" said grace, (we won't give him away, however,) and the tempting lunch spread out before the hungry members, disappeared so rapidiy as to leave the impression, that the sight of the viands had really been but a pleasant dream. The new quarters of the Association are very neat and handsome, being fitted up with extreme good taste by the members. A large number of maps of Chicago and suburbs adorn the walls; but a painting, executed by Mrs. Morey, wife of the president, representing the early appearance of real estate property in Chicago, is given the place of honor. It is a work of decided merit, and the president received many congratulations upon the ability of his better half. The meetings of the Association will take place each day at noon. The Journal congratulates the members upon the prosperous condition of the Association, and, with old Rip, can say: "May you live long and be happy."

Chicago's Depravity.

Had Dr. Kittredge made the statement that there are 30,000 immoral, vicious men in Chicago, he would have come nearer to the trnth than when he asserted that that number of women were following a life of prostitntion. Thieves and dead-beats abound in Chicago, and can be seen every day in idleness standing around the doors and bars of saloons without a dollar in their pockets except when they make a haul. The newspapers are sometimes criticised by ministers and others for publishing the doings of police courts and the meaness which leads to them, but the JOURNAL ventures the assertion that not one-half of the cases of larceny and burglary which transpire during the year are published. Less than one year ago the office of this journal was broken open and ransacked by burglars. About the first of May, during the time of receiving applications in answer to an advertisement for help, one of the young men wanted to write a letter, and asked for pen and ink, he having worked one day on trial; as soon as the proprietor's back was turned and while the printers were at work in an adjoining room with the door open, he stole four steel engravings and a gold pen and holder. This is not all. A young man engaged to work on the JOURNAL and brought reference from a lawyer on Randolph street, and when he was sent out to renew a written order in the lumber districts, forged an order by imitating the signature on the expired contract, drew his commission and took his departure. The lawyer, when asked about it, said that he had gotten the fellow out of jail for mortgaging his landlady's furnitnre. In this case the lawyer, who is a member of the Chicago bar, was meaner than the thief. And yet the publisher knows a shyster on Clark street who is ten times meaner than the lawyer on Randolph street. The attorneys, as a rule, are honorable men, but a few of Chicago's shysters will be the cause of stirring up a riot some day that will eclipse the Cincinnati disturbance,

People are forced to go and buy or redeem their stolen property from the villainous pawnbroker, or else incur the expense of a law-suit. Shysters work cheap. Pawnbrokers are sometimes "fences," and politicians and some office holders flatter and assist criminals because such men are voters and can be bought and used for a purpose.

Dr. Kittredge should hurl his accusations at all kinds of sinners and then he could not be accused of being cowardly.

Let those who think that Chicago is as good as it ought to be, go on the hunt for stolen property and get acquainted with the detectives and police and their every day duties, and then go to Marshal Field and ask him how much money he pays out in a year for the detection of thieves in his business, and our word for it, they will be convinced of the truth of the above statements.

The department of public works advertise this week for proposals for the improvements to be made upon about thirty streets, for which assessments have been made.

A Model Warehouse.

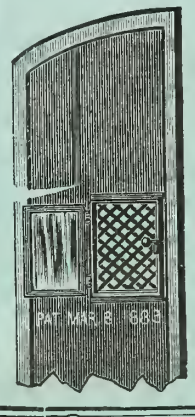
Among the new advertisements which appear in this number of the Journal is that of the Chicago Furniture Storage Company, Nos. 97 to 103 Van Buren Street. Knowing that our readers would be interested in a description of a first class storage warehouse, the writer, on invitation of the genial and accommodating manager, Mr. T. M. Hamilton, took a tour through their building, which is five stories high, with a frontage of 100 feet on Van Buren Street and 125 feet on Fourth Avenue, the five floors used for storage purposes covering 50,000 square feet. In the center of the building is a sky-light 40x14 feet, which gives all the light necessary, and also gives a good circulation of air through the building. The second or main floor is used for storing pianos and organs, and upon this floor the offices of the company are also found, fitted up in a very neat, commodious style. The upper floors are used for the purpose of storing all sorts of household furniture, wagons, carriages, etc. One feature, which more than anything speaks of the high rank which this company has attained through years of experience and business uprightness, is the fact that the warehouse receipts given those storing goods, are negotiable at any bank in the city. The company was formed in 1875, and the business, from a small beginning, has grown into almost mammoth proportions, until to-day the Chicago Furniture Storage Co. can proudly claim that they are the leading furniture storage warehouse company in the west. By reference to their advertisement it will be seen that all charges for freight, cartage, insurance and labor will be advanced if necessary. The managers cordially invite all who may be interested to call and examine their model storage warehouse.

West Side Property.

The improvements now under way on the West Side are perhaps some of the best in the city. The large Hotel on the corner of Canal and Madison Streets is proceeding rapidly toward completion. The character of all dwellings going up on this side is first class. The general tone of the improvements tends to enhance the value of property on that side. Among those who are making a specialty of West Side property we take pleasure in mentioning D. R. McAuley, with office at Rooms 1 and 2, No. 182 W. Madison Street. Mr. McAuley has a large knowledge of West Side property. He has many choice properties on his books, good for investments. He also is able to make loans in any amount, on good security.

We call the attention of the readers of the Real Estate Journal to the card of Wm. Hayden, on the second page. Mr. Hayden, late with A. H. Andrews & Co., has recently opened up at 193 Wabash Ave., with a very choice and full stock of Office Furniture and Fittings. He is also agent in the west for the celebaated "Cutler Desk." Mr. Hayden has just purchased the entire stock of Office Desks of the Tobey Furniture Co. Those who are in need of Office Furniture will do well to call and see the stock of Mr. Hayden.

Wood Mantels.



At the Butler Company, 209 Wabash av., can be found a very choice and complete stock of Wood and Marbleized Mantels, Foreign and Domestic Tiles, Open Brass Fire-Places, Fenders, Andirons, etc,

A. W. Herr AND Co.

Manufacturers of
Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

Stoves.

During the summer months, most people prepare for the coming winter, and the first thought is in regard to having their stoves repaired. In answer to the querry "where can I send my stove to be repaired," we unhesitatingly say, send them to James Ash, 108 and 110 West Van Buren st. Mr. Ash has been long in the business, and his work is of the best. Besides repairing stoves, he has also for sale a large number of new and second-hand stoves and ranges. Give him a call.

Champion Roofing,
In use 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have use J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durahility, and fire-proof qualities, that we helieve we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

REALTIES.

— The Senate has passed the bill by Mr. Pendleton to regulate the payment of bills of exchange drawn in foreign countries on persons, firms, or corporations in the United States.

— Hyde Park has passed an ordinance for building a sidewalk on west side of Superior avenue from 89th to 90 streets, also on east side of Michigan avenue from 44th to 45th streets.

— The House, by a vote of 134 yeas to 22 nays, passed the bill declaring the land grant to the Oregon Central forfeited, after rejecting an amendment by Mr. George, of Oregon, to confine the forfeiture to unearned lands.

— The county commissioners are after the alleged owners of the Evanston pike, the county board having instructed the county attorney to bring them into court and have them explain by what right they collected toll from persons using the road. The alleged owners are liable to hear something drop.

— The Cook County Real Estate Owner's Board is the name of a corporation recently organized for the protection of resident and non-resident owners of real estate in this county. Its work will be the listing of real estate, paying of taxes and assessments, furnishing facilities for sale and purchase, and the perfecting and protecting of titles. The charter has been obtained, and the capital stock will be $10,000, in 100 shares of $100 each.

— The Call Board building was sold at auction on Tuesday morning to C. J. Singer, for $750. The cost of the building about two years ago was over $15,000, and furniture in the building, which was included in the sale, cost over $2,000. The building is on leased ground, the lease running from year to year at $2,000 per annum, which may account for the low price at which the building was sold.

— The following bills were passed by the Senate on Tuesday: Adding $100,000 to the amount already prepaid for constructing public buildings at Columbus, Ohio. The bill fixing the cost of a site for a public building at Leavenworth, Kansas, not to exceed $160,000. The bill authorizing the construction of bridges over the Missouri river at Leavenworth, Kansas, and near the town of Rulo, Richardson County, Neb.

— The current number of the Telegraphist contains an account of a trial of the wonderful capabilities of the Indo-European line. Connection was successively made to Emden, to Odessa to Teheran, to Kurrachee, and finally to Calcutta, and through this enormous length of 7000 miles of wire messages were sent and received directly with an ordinary Morse printer at the rate of 12 or 14 words a minute. This is a marvelous improvement on the time when messages were a week in transit. In 1866 only one message got through in 24 hours.

LUMBER MARKET.

The lumber market the past week has been active, and no difficulty has been experienced in disposing of good cargoes. The arrivals have continued about the same as last week, averaging nearly thirty cargoes per day. The shipping by canal boats has increased considerably during the week, in fact the bulk of shipping having been done in that manner, and this mode of shipping will continue on the increase, until the discriminations in class lumber is done away with by the railroads, which does not appear likely to happen in the near future. Prices remain unchanged, and are likely to remain so, as no further reduction or increase is looked for in the present season. The shipments for May will be nearly 195,000,000, which is somewhat larger than during April, and nearly the same as the corresponding month last year. The receipts for May were in excess of the same month last year by over 50,000,000, the figures being in May, 1883, 189,000,000, May 1884, 244,000,000. In hard wood there has been no active trade the demand bring steady and in small quantitities. California red wood is looming up in the market, and the demand is becoming better each month. When builders generally become better acqainted with the merits of this lumber for trimmings, etc., the demand will, no doubt, fully eqnal the snpply, at present the snpply is limited to pieces, 6 inches to 4 feet wide, but as soon as the demand requires it, it can be furnished in any desired shape. A large number of answers have been received by Mr. Hotchkiss, the secretary of the Lumber Exchange, from the circulars which have been sent ont to the manufacturers, to which we made reference last week, and all report a good prospect for the season for the supply of the market, no prognostication can be made however with certainty respecting next season. The receipts of shingles have been large, and although prices have remained the same, and the demand good, there has been some difficulty in disposing of them. Outside lumber orders have been few and far between. Rates remain as last reported, with no present prospect of being lowered. Reports from trade centers throughout the Northwest show business to be good with retail dealers, a great amonnt of building being carried on. Collections are good as a rule, and no failures of any consequence are reported.

—o—

BUILDING.

Building operations have been pushed as fast as possible, but was somewhat retarded by a couple of rainy days. Building materials have moved very freely and prices are unchanged. There has been a slight falling off in the demand for common and pressed brick, but the dealers are all busy filling back orders. The number of building permits issued during the week was very large, and the total cost of buildings for which they were given will aggregate close to $400,000, so there need be no alarm felt for lack of work during the season as the permits are increasing with each week. Among the most noteworthy buildings for which permits have been issued the past week, are the following: A four-story theatre building, 60x140 feet, Nos. 339 to 343 State Street, by Jonathan Clark, to cost $45,000. Mr. T. W. Brophy, a two-story dwelling, 36x80 feet, at 938 Monroe Street, to cost $10,000. Mr. W. G. Miller, seven two-story dwellings, 18x40 feet each, at southeast corner of Robey and Warren Avenue, to cost $18,000. Mr. J. Mullen, three-story store and flats, 28x63, at 576 W. Lake Street, to cost $7000. Mrs, L. J. Whitman, three-story store and flats, 469 Congress Street, to cost $6000. John Kralowec, three-story store and dwelling, 57x75, 644 and 646 Blue Island Avenne, to cost $13,000. Conrad Scipp, three-story stores and dwellings, 100x118, Thirty-first Street and Cottage Grove Avenue, to cost $50,000. H. B. Foss, three-story dwellings and flats, 138x46, Nos. 459 to 469 W. Monroe Street, $60,000. W. H. Hoyt, five four-story dwellings, 100x50, Nos. 32 to 40 Pine Street, cost $40,600; materials pressed brick and terra cotta. An addition to the Revere House, corner of Clark and Michigan Streets, to cost $30,000.

THE MARKET.

The Republican Convention has had the same effect on the real estate market this week as a dose of chloroform has on an individual—put it in a comatose state. Some business has been done, but very little, and the most of that done has consisted of small dwelling houses and lots, barely averaging $3,000 each. Some large dealers report a number of inquiries for business property, but no large transfers have been made, and considerable difficulty is experienced in securing desirable business property for investment just now, very little being upon the market at prices that would make it a profitable investment. There is a considerable contrariety of opinions among the larger dealers as to the future of the market, some declaring that not much improvement is to be looked for on account of politics, others again are hopeful, and predict a large summer business. Certainly, if variety (of opinions) is the spice of newspaper work, we should be very highly flavored this week. From the mass of conflicting reports, however, we should judge that a medium between the opinions expressed would be near the truth, and that, while no boom or large business is to be looked for, there will be a very good trade, all things considered. Money is plenty, but few demands have been made upon loan brokers, only two or three transactions of any consequence having been consummated, and those ranged from $6000 to $15,000. Rates are the same, 6% for large loans, and 7% for smaller ones. Two or three eastern capitalists who are attending the convention, are inquiring regarding desirable property, and from expressions from them, it seems that a number of eastern men are looking with an investment eye upon Chicago realty. No further disturbances have taken place in the financial world, and confidence has been restored in the market.

NEW YORK MARKET.

Real Estate sales have not fallen off during the last two weeks, and last week, although broken into by the observance of Decoration day, showed an increase of conveyances over the corresponding week last year, as follows: 1883, $2,944,381, 1884, $3,472,090. The most important sales last week were those of the Haggerty property, on Tuesday, and the Pentz property on Thursday. Bidding was brisk at both sales and prices were good, especially those brought by the Haggerty property. Many of the lots sold were bought by speculators, who immediately posted them for a re-sale, which would indicate that the demand for vacant property is on the increase. For the present week it looks as though the market would be put to a severe test, as a large amount of property will be offered. The realty of Mr. Deane, to be sold June 3 and 4, being the largest, comprising apartment houses, dwellings, and vacant lots. It will no doubt be the largest sale of the season, and will serve as a criterion by which to judge the strength of the market. There is also other large sales listed, and good investment chances will be numerous. The Deane property lies mostly in Harlem, and is subject to mortgages. Building continues brisk, and numerous buildings to cost from $10,000 to $500,000 are projected. Real Estate men look for an advance in prices soon; whether they are justified in their anticipations will, no doubt, be demonstrated in a week or two.

New York Prices in 1847 and 1883.

The buildings Nos. 94 and 96 Broadway, which are being torn down to make way for a fine office building, which will eventually also have frontages on Wall and Pine streets, belongs to the Astor family, and was originally purchased at prices which seem absurdly low, compared with those which now obtain. The lot No. 96 Broadway, size 21.9x100x20.10x100, was purchased by John Jacob Astor from Hezekiah Wheeler, merchant tailor, on April 14, 1847, for $27,600; No. 94, which is 16.6x100x13.10x100, was purchased by William B. Astor, from the heirs of Willlam B. Gilley, on March 16, 1853, for $32,500. Compare these prices with some of the recent sales, for instance, the building No. 62 Broadway and 21 New street, near Exchange place, was purchased on May 8, 1883, for $178,500. The house 68 Broadway and 17 New street, size 22.10x119.5. was sold on March 1, 1883, for $170,000. Broadway, Nos, 52, 54 and 56, and 31 to 39 New street, 124.1$ on Broadway, x159.10x130.1 on New street, x135.2 on Exchange place, was sold on February 20, 1883, for $1,000,000. The northwest corner of Broadway and Liberty street, 25.4x85.2, with an L 25.4, and 47.7 on Liberty street, was bought under the hammer at Jumel estate sale May 31, 1882, by the Williamsburgh City Fire Insurance Company for $356,000. This shows the great difference between the prices which obtained before the Civil War as compared with those now demanded for choice Broadway property.

— The making of artificial blocks, stones, etc., forms the subject of a patent issued to Mr. Louis Rosenthal, of Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany. By special combinations and a peculiar process, using high pressures, stone may be made, by this invention, similar to natural lithographic stone; it does not absorb water, can be polished, requires no treatment in regard to the application of colors, and can be moulded in different shapes.

— Among the reported improvements at St. Paul we notice a double residence corner of Pleasant Avenue and Forbes Street, Cyrus J. Thompson, cost about $9000. Several cottages at Merriam Park, ranging in price from $2,000 to $4,000. A residence for Major J. A. Mabin on 12th Street east, cost about $6,000. The Mortuary chapel of Calvary cemetery. — The building boom still continues at Minneapolis, according to reports received. In one addition to North Minneapolis over a hundred new buildings are going up. Plans have been accepted for a row of tenements on Three-and-a-Half Avenue, with a frontage of 582 feet; the materials will be pressed brick and stone. W. D. Kimball will build an Elizabethian cottage, corner Spruce Place and 14th Street. From the statement of the comptroller we learn that the city has levied the sum of $341,310 for improvements.

— Dr. Hand Smith has been engaged in studying the movement of colord particles within marble, ivory, and other dense substances; and the result is a process of developing paintings and designs below the surface of marble, thereby combining the two arts of painting and sculpture. Through the use of metallic oxides, worked in a special medium and fixed by a special treatment, designs in every shade and tint are produced within the stone. It is a peculiarity of the method that every line penetrates at right angles to the surface without spreading laterally, Samples of the new art are now being exhibited at Piccadilly Hall, London, and include various decorative designs and delicate paintings of autumnal foliage. The process will be applicable to statuary, pottery, and mural tablets, as well as architectural decoration.

Chicago and Suburbs.

W. H. Russell will build a handsome house on Calumet ave., south of 31st st., to cost $16,000, of Baltimore pressed brick and terra cotta, and finished in hard wood.

— The business block at Adams and Market streets, for C. M. Henderson and C. B. Blair, will begin to rise as soon as the workmen finish tearing down the old one-story building, and the same business-like dispatch will mark operations on the six-story and basement business building on Market street, south of Madison, for A. F. Troescher, and the six-story and basement building at the south-east corner of Pacific avenue and Van Buren street for Mr. Memorny.

— Architect Alfred Smith has planned a stone front store and flat building on Van-Buren street near Wood, for Mark J. Forsyth, to cost $10,000, Louis Daegling, contractor; also a $7,500 residence of brick and brown stone, on Jackson street, east of Ashland avenue, for W. D. Messenger.

— Architects Jaffray & Scott have resumed operations on the elegant $60,000 house, 43 x96 feet, for Mr. P. C. Hanford, Calumet avenue, south of Twentieth street. A feature of the plan is the peaks of the roof, done in slate, the walls on every side being Connecticut brown stone. The stables will correspond.

— Architects Burling & Whitehouse have let contracts for an $80,000 malt-house at Illinois and St. Clair streets, the building to be seven stories, five of which will be planned for offices. They have also commenced the erection of a kiln-house on Michigan street, near St. Clair—owned, like the other, by Mr. Geo. Bullen—which will be fire-proof and have a cupola 120 feet high. Rossler & Winckler are the mason contractors.

HYDE PARK.

The property holders are still agitated about the proposed railroad on Cottage Grove avenue. Since the project was started, the sales of property has been very few, and improved property in the neighborhood of Cottage Grove avenue has become a drug on the market. From numerous conversations with prominent real estate owners in Hyde Park, we learn that those who oppose the road do so because they are convinced that it is but a scheme of a wealthy financial firm in which the chief and only head, as far as known of the project, is intimately interested. It is claimed that the scheme is to secure the granting of the charter by the trustees to this gentlemen, ostensibly for a suburban passenger road, but really for the purpose of selling the charter to the Western Indiana Road, to be used for freight. There are a great many things that point toward these charges being true, chief among which is the fact that the head of the proposed road is a member of one of the families which compose the wealthy firm referred to, and who are largely interested in the Western Indiana Road. Then again the secrecy with which the petitions of those favoring and opposing the road are surrounded, lends additional encouragement to the belief that some other object, beyond what appears upon the surface, is aimed at. The charter will be granted, no doubt, as a majority of the trustees were elected for that purpose. If the road is really to be what it is now represented to be, a suburban passenger road, the property adjacent to Cottage Grove avenue will increase in value, but whether sufficiently so to offset the depreciation of property lying on Cottage Grove avenue, is a matter of conjecture, with the chances in favor of not doing so. At any rate, the property owners on the avenue are convinced that a considerable shrinkage will occur in their property when the new road is built. The fight is not over yet, and if those opposing the road should secure the services of bright lawyers, they may yet secure the victory. The outcome of the fight will be watched with interest by all, but none will watch closer than the Chicago street railway company, who, it is understood, is the prime mover in the indignation meetings which have been held, and who are furnishing the sinews of war to carry on the fight.

OPENING DAY.

On Monday the Open Board of Trade took possession of their new building on LaSalle and Jackson streets, amid a blow of trumpets and clang of cymbals, and also with a good deal of wind. The breeze was started by the president, W. D. French, who made the opening and welcoming speech, after which he introduced the orator of the occasion, Mr. T. M. Baxter, whom he designated as the "Father of the Open Board." Mr. Baxter confined his speech mostly to the progress of the board from its inception up to the present time, incidentally, of course, getting in a few remarks about the greatness of Chicago. Among the other prominent speakers was Congressman Dunham, who is a good talker and who gave the members some good advice in a good-humored way. The total membership of the board is given at 400.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

TENANT HOLDING OVER BECOMES TENANT FROM MONTH TO MONTH.—Plaintiff brought an action of replevin to recover possession of personal property contained in property leased by plaintiff to defendant. Defendant pleaded specially that he rented the premises from fall to the first of May next thereafter, and then held over with the verbal consent of the landlord, renting the personal property with the real estate; and that the plaintiff did not give him the notice required in a tenancy from year to year. Demurrer to plea sustained.

Held, that the verbal agreement created only a tenancy from month to month, requiring but thirty days' notice. HAWES, J. Alfred Moore, plaintiff's attorney; Rufus King, defendant's attorney.—Legal Adviser.

REAL ESTATE—SALES BY THE ACRE AND IN GROSS.—Whether a sale of real estate is a sale by the acre or in gross, depends upon the intention of the parties, to be gathered from the terms of the contract and all the facts and circumstances connected with it.

CONTRACTS OF HAZARD.—Contracts of hazard in such cases, although not invalid, are not favored in equity; the presumption is against them, and it can be repelled only by clear and cogent proof. Every such contract will be construed a contract by the acre unless it clearly appears that the land was sold by the tract, and not by the acre. And where the contract is for the payment of a gross sum for a tract of land upon an estimate of a given quantity, the presumption is that the quantity influenced the price, and that the contract is not one of hazard.

CASE AT BAR.—A case in which a sale of land was held to be a sale by the acre, and not in gross; and there being a deficiency, the vendor was entitled to compensation therefor.

JURISDICTION.—Where land has been sold under the decree of a Court of Chancery in a pending cause, it is competent for one claiming a part of the land to apply to the court for relief, either by petition in the cause or by a separate and independent suit; and the court has jurisdiction to determine the question, and need not leave the party to his remedy at law.—Legal Adviser.

HOMESTEAD — RESIDENCE — INTENTION.—Supreme Court of Illinois, opinion filed May 19, 1884, John R. Rock et al v John J. Haas. Where the family of the homestead claimant does not reside on the premises with her, the premises will not be exempt from execution sale, unless at the time of the recovery of the judgment the claimant has a fixed purpose to make the premises the home of the family, presently followed by actual occupancy of the premises by the family, with reasonable diligence. Failure of sheriff to make demand for payment before sale, will not invalidate the sale. Judicial sales will not be set aside for mere inadequacy of price where the debtor takes no steps to set aside the sale until after the sheriff's deed issues.—Legal News.

BOUNDARY LINE BETWEEN LOTS—TRESPASS.—Supreme Court of Wisconsin, abstract of opinions, filed May 16, 1884; Donahue v Thompson. Held, "if two adjacent or conterminous proprietors agree upon and establish a dividing line between their premises, and actually claim and occupy the land on each side of that line continuously for over twenty years, such possession will be adverse and confer a title by prescription." The circuit judge was warranted by the evidence in directing a verdict for plaintiff.

Judgment confirmed. Orton, J.

FRAUDULENT ASSIGNMENT — PREFERRED CREDITORS.—Vernon and another v Upson, garnishee, and Fenn & Williams. Because the assignment contains preferences in favor of persons not creditors of the assigning firm, but creditors of an individual partner, it is fraudulent and void as to these plaintiffs, who have repudiated it, and who are unpreferred creditors of the firm.

Judgment reversed. Lyon, J. — Legal News.

FOREIGN ATTACHMENT — TRUSTEES—PROPERTY IN THIS STATE.—Supreme Court of Illinois, opinion filed May 19, 1884; William H. Rhawn et al v Thomas A. Pearce et al. Appeal from First District, Appellate Court. Creditors of John Landenberger, who were all citizens of Pennsylvania, sued out an attachment in that State against his estate, and trustees of his estate were appointed by the court, and it was claimed that the property and effects of said defendant in Illinois passed to defendant.

Two creditors who were citizens of Pennsylvania, sued out an attachment in Illinois, and garnisheed a Chicago firm who owed John Landenberger. Held, that if appellees had commenced their action in Pennsylvania, the proceedings appointing the trustees would have been a bar to their action, and they would have been concluded by the law of that State.—Chicago Legal News.

EJECTMENT — PLEADING — INFANCY—DISAFFIRMANCE—ESTOPPEL.—Supreme Court of Illinois, opinion filed May 19, 1884; Anna C. Weiland et al v Margaretha Kobick. Appeal from Cook.

1. PLEADING.—That in ejectment under our statute, when the defendant pleads the general issue, it is not necessary for the plaintiff to prove that defendants were in possession of the premises or claimed an interest or title therein.

2. INFANCY—DISAFFIRMANCE—ESTOPPEL.—That where a minor had given a deed reciting that she was of age, and after becoming of age she filed a disclaimer, held, that she was not estopped by the recitals in the deed, from setting up the fact of her infancy; that the doctrine of estoppel is inapplicable to infants.—Chicago Legal News.

Hewitt's Banking Bill.

Mr. Hewitt's proposed amendments to the national banking law have the merit of good intentions, but as the Commercial Bulletin points out, the phraseology must be changed if bank depositors are to be really protected from the irregularities and speculative enterprises of bank officers. A discount, under the peculiar decisions of our courts, is not a loan, and Mr. Hewitt's bill, should it become a law, would be no protection against future Enos, Fishs and Seneys. What is needed is a provision prohibiting bank presidents from speculating at all. It should be made a criminal offence during the time which they hold fiduciary trusts. It is absured to provide that bank and trust companies shall invest in certain undoubted securities and then place the funds of the bank in the custody of an officer who is a notorious speculator. There are others respects also in which the working of our bank machinery might be amended, but Congress should, without delay, amend Mr. Hewitt's bill and pass it forthwith.

The Devil and his Due.

Since "Our Carter" and his friends have had control of the city government, the press of this city, and throughout the country generally, have pointed to Chicago as the worst governed and immoral city in the United States; nor has the press alone done this, but the ministers of the gospel also have taken a hand, and been in fact more intemperate in their charges than the former; as witness, the foolish and cranky statement made a few weeks ago by Rev. Dr. Kittredge, that Chicago has 30,000 prostitutes within her limits. While there has been and still is a great deal of truth in some statements made against the administration of this city, it is by no means as bad as it is painted by cranks and penny-a-liners. It is, of course, undeniably true that Chicago is immoral and wicked, but not more so in proportion than New York or London or any other large city, or even admitting that it is more so, what then? Is the mayor and aldermen to be charged with wickedness of all the inhabitants of the city? Chicago is the "Hub of the West," and is made up of a most cosmopolitan population, a large majority being foreigners; can the city government be charged with the crime and immorality of these aliens? One other thing, as we have said, Chicago is the central point of the west, the criminal classes are migratory, they have no settled abode as a rule, but are attracted here from other cities, and thus Chicago is made to bear the sins of the criminal classes of other cities, who are freed from the depredations of these criminals, simply because Chicago, for the reasons stated, presents a better field of operation than they, and not because the other cities are more "holy." It is charged, with some truth that the mayor and alderman are in collusion with some of the gamblers of this city. Are they more so than those of New York, Boston, Brooklyn, and other large cities? Some will say "well since you admit this why do you defend them?" We are not defending them because we can not, but we can, and do, and will defend Chicago from the charge that it is the most depraved city in America. We have as many and as good citizens in proportion as any city, and the reason we have so many bad citizens is, not because Chicago is depraved, but because other cities send their depraved classes to us. The city government is not, thank God, Chicago; Dr. Kittredge and other cranks to the contrary notwithstanding. And now in conclusion one word of commendation and encouragement to our city council; they have not done many things which have received commendation or perhaps merited it, but all glory and honor to them in general, and to Alderman Frank Lawler in particular, for having passed the ordinance prohibiting the posting of obscene bills, and for instructing the Chief of Police to suppress the sale of obscene publications. And now what do you think of Chicago, you whited sepulchres of envious cities? Can any of you point to the same acts by your board of alderman? Chicago is not "holy," but she is "gitin' thar," and it would do other cities far more credit if they were to try and imitate her example, than to roll up their eyes, and with a sanctimonious look drawl out "I am holier than thou."

The following is clipped from an Exchange: "The commissioner of health of Brooklyn, N. Y.. has issued a letter to the secretaires of several city boards of health suggesting the calling of a conference of representatives of said boards for the purpose of considering the feasibility and desirability of endeavoring to secure uniform plumbing legislation and regulations. This is an important move in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that such a conferance may take place. The question as to what is good plumbing and what is bad plumbing should be decided by some uniform law, and not by the opinions of the different people who draw up the regulations. Then, again, these regulations should not be prepared without reference to the plumber's and householder's side of the question. Commissioners of health, in their laudable desire to secure sanitary plumbing, might require things to be done which would be inconvenient to the one and expensive to the other, when some other arrangement would be quite as well. The inspectors of plumbing should watch this conference with interest.

A Wise Tenant.

Philadelphia Call: Jones—"You don't mean to say you have made all these improvements yourself? I thought you were only a tenant."

Smith—"I am."

Jones—"Well, if I were in your place I would send for the landlord and let him see the expense you have put on it."

Smith—"The landlord! Mercy! Don't let him know I have improved his property."

Jones—"And why not?"

Smith—"He would raise the rent."

A PIONEER HOUSE.

As the writer was walking down Wabash Avenue the past week his attention was attracted by a unique and strikingly original sign over the front entrance of a large store. Being naturally of an inquisitive turn of mind and also a great admirer of practical art in painting, he resolved to ascertain who the artist was. Inquiry revealed the fact that it had been conceived and painted by a firm known as the "pioneer painting house of the West," S. S. Barry & Son, 258 and 260 Wabash Avenue. In 1837, when Chicago was a mere village and no one ever dreamed of the important city it would become, Mr. S. S. Barry, then a young man, came here and started a paint shop. Painting at that early date was a luxury which very few indulged in. There were very few houses that were built with an eye to beauty, so it was only by hard work and mixing other work with painting that Mr. Barry was able to eke out a living. In a few years, however, the then village began to grow, and the taste for building houses began to develop, and from being a struggling painter Mr. Barry became the employer of a few journeyman painters. From that time to the present it has been plain sailing for him. Sixteen years ago Mr. Barry opened what was then considered an elegant shop, at No. 145 State Street, but his business increased so rapidly that a new and larger location became necessary, and one year ago the firm—for Mr. Barry had taken his son into partnership—moved into their present spacious and elegant quarters at 258 and 260 Wabash Avenue. The store has a frontage of 40 feet and is 125 feet deep. The wood work on the interior is of red oak, varnished, and presents a striking and pleasing effect. The offices are separated from the sale room by polished brass railings, and the office furniture is in keeping with the good taste which has been exhibited in fitting up the store. From being merely a house-painting firm, they have kept pace and encouraged the growth of artistic painting of a practical kind, and were among the first to turn their attention to high art sign painting and frescoing. As art grew and Chicago became a center for western artists, S. S. Barry & Son added largely to their already large business by becoming the artists' supply house of Chicago. The work done by this firm needs no commendation; it speaks for itself. With forty years of practical experience this firm has no need of fulsome praise. They now employ over 125 men, but in the spring business the number runs over 200, among whom are fresco and sign painters of national and world-wide reputation, men who stand in their work upon as high a plane as any of the famous portrait and imaginative painters of the world. Mr. Barry, the elder, is still a hale old gentleman, and can be found at his store, smiling and genial, while his son, who has taken charge of the active portion of the business, has made a fine reputation as a progressive business man. The large number of friends with which their house has surrounded itself will be rejoiced to know of the merited success of S. S. Barry & Son, who are the largest firm in Chicago in painters' and artists' supplies.

Manufacturers of

Sidewalk Ventilators and Vault Covers,

Are now ready to supply the public with their new and improved VENTILATOR and COAL-HOLE VAULT COVERS. This invention entirely does away with propping up or placing barrels or boxes in your sidewalks, at the same time giving you all the desired ventilation and three times the light given by covers now used, and always leaving the sidewalks fully clear to the public, thus abating an intolerable nuisance, and protecting life, limb, and landlords from serious damages. These covers are constructed with two heavy-hinged wings, so that one or both can be opened from below by turning a heavy thumb-screw when ventilation is desired, and can be readily closed to prevent rain or dust without obstructing the light to apartments below in either case, or disturbing the cover on sidewalk. We have all sizes, both round and square, with or without rings and fastenings. We invite the public, and particularly architects, builders, and those contemplating building, to call and examine our new devices, which will be found cheaper, and we will guarantee better satisfaction than any ever used.

We also invite your attention to our new and indispensable "EUREKA" VENTILATOR and FIRE LOCATER, to be placed on iron shutters, locating the fire in a building to a certainty, thus giving easy access to the apartment where fire is located, saving great damage and delay and loss of property, and can be used as a ventilator whenever desired for ventilation of attics, mansard roofs, outhouses, barns, stables and wooden structures of all kinds where ventilation is needed. It will be found as safe a protection from outside heat as the solid shutter. Call and see for yourselves, or send for circular.

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, etc.

The increasing consumption of lumber of every kind has had the effect of denuding vast sections that were formerly heavily timbered, wherefore active measures have been taken to preserve our forests from needless removal, and to awaken public interest in planting of trees and their preservation until maturity is reached. The subject is of vital importance, and should receive the co-operation of all who are interested in one of the great arteries of our national wealth, and foundation of many prominent industries. Among the cities most favorably located for the lumber business, none occupy a better position than the city of Chicago, controlling the largest lumber market in the world, and the largest houses engaged in the trade.

One of the representative and extensive lumber firms in the city is that of SAWYER, GOODMAN Co., with yards and office at No. 500 Lumber St. They are extensive manufacturers of and dealers in superior lumber, lath, shingles, etc., and always keep a thoroughly seasoned, carefully selected, and very extensive stock, suitable for all and every requirement. They solicit orders of the trade, having the very best facilities at their disposal, and are thus enabled to ship promptly to any point. Their product is equalled by few and excelled by none, is delivered as represented, cut into any desired sizes and lengths, and of a quality which gives satisfaction every time. The Company do not employ traveling men, but execute all orders received at their office exactly in accordance with buyer's wishes, wherefore their many customers find it advantageous to always remain customers, consequently their trade has developed into vast proportions. All their products are in great demand, and the many buildings we see springing up in the city and suburbs, have, in many instances, had their material furnished by the SAWYER, GOODMAN Co., whose reputation for superior stock and reasonable prices is firmly established; and as for dealings the name of the Company is synonymous with integrity and fairness. Estimates and price lists will be furnished on application, and everything done to facilitate business, and yet further extend the Company's well-earned popularity.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

BUILDING.

Buildings in course of construction are being pushed as rapidly as possible, the fine weather aiding the efforts of builders generally. Very few new buildings have been projected this week, and nearly all architects report slack business as regards newly projected buildings. Most of them seem to think that the building boom, as a boom, is over for the summer. This information will be received with favor by those who have a number of empty houses on their hands, which they are unable to rent. These gentlemen claim that there has been and is at present, too much building going on, which has resulted in the market being overstocked with houses. This may be true to a certain extent, but the builders claim that the one reason why there are so many empty houses, is not because there are too many, but because property owners and agents want too much rent for their houses during the renting season. That is the question as stated by both sides. "You pays your money and takes your choice." The old Exchange block is now a thing of the past, and in a few days the last remnant of debris will be cleared away and the stately new building will begin to rise in its place. The Sibley building, at Clark Street bridge, has now reached the third story of completion and will soon be under roof. Other large buildings are rapidly approaching completion. Among the principal building permits issued during the week are the following: C. K. Miller, Nos. 542 and 544 N. State Street, three-story brick dwelling, 35x78, to cost $18,000. G. W. Burhhard, three two-story brick dwellings, 50x50, Nos. 3239 to 3243 Forest Street, to cost $10,000. Mrs. W. H. Murray, two-story dwelling, 32x58, No. 1919 Prairie Avenue, to cost $30,000. Ward & Jaensslen, two-story packing-house, 120 x72, Waver Street and Archer Avenue, to cost $12,000. H. Beidler, five-story brick factory, 168x150, Nos. 125 to 139 W. Washington Street, to cost $60,000. Washington Boulevard Skating Company, building 125x200, Washington and Curtis Streets. to cost $50,000.

LUMBER MARKET.

The lumber market has been fairly active during the week, the average sales being about the same as the past month. No change has taken place in prices and none is to be looked for at present. Dealers are very generally satisfied with the present business being done, but some small dealers complain of dull business. The arrivals have continued on about the same average as the previous two or three weeks, and the lumber is of the best quality. Very little trouble is experienced in disposing of cargoes. The total receipts since the first of May have been 84,376,000 feet of lumber and 61,176,000 shingles, being a reduction, as compared with the same period last year, of 16,825,000 feet of lumber and 3,786,000 shingles. The total official receipts to May 10 were as follows: 463,145,000 feet of lumber and 262,034,000 shingles. Shipments and sales appear from the reported figures to fully maintain the volume of business apparent for May. Reports continue to come in from the lumber districts favorable to a good supply, except from the Chippewa river district, where there has been low water, and as a result a vast number of logs are "hung up." Possibly the June freshet, if it should occur, will float these down, but it will not affect the market either way. The new tariff adopted by the Northwestern Tariff Association, which gives Chicago an advantage of two cents over St. Paul and Minneapolis, will, no doubt, have the effect to increase the business done by our lumbermen with western and southwestern points. The reports from outside points indicate a good wholesale and retail trade being done; and in the west, no reduction in the amount of business being done is looked for during the season, as building operations are being pushed as they never have been before.

THE MARKET.

Opinions on the Real Estate market as expressed by different agents, makes it a difficult matter to decide just what effect. if any, the recent speculative flurry in the East has had upon the market in Chicago. A few say that there has been no change in the market, and others aver that it has been depressed, and others again claim that the Wall street panic has resulted in giving a new impulse to real estate invesment. The Republican Convention temporarily diverted the attention of investors from business, and it may be set down as a certainty that the Democratic nominatiotion will be equal to a half-dozen of the first mentioned, with a fourth of July celebration thrown in, in point of noise and enjoyment. The Democrats will make the greatest effort of their life to take the wind out of Republican sails.

—o—

The only feature of the real estate business the past week which deserves special mention, is the numerous inquiries that have been made regarding property. In-have not been so brisk in months as in the week past, and the week could properly be put down as a very large interrogation point. No doubt this augurs well for prospective business, and serves to keep the the agent's mind upon his business, but further than this no particular benefit has accrued to the general business during the week from it. Business shows a slight improvement over that of Convention week, but the market has not recovered from the effects of the Convention, and at present indications, will continue to exhibit these effects in a greater or less degree until after our next national circus, which takes place next month. Whether business will be better after that has come and gone can only be conjectured; but we do not look for a much better market until after the fall election. Real Estate men are just as much interested in politics as other business men, and of course will devote a great portion of their time in working for their party's success. Capitalists are chary of investing their money when there is a chance of a change in the administration of the affairs of the government, and therefore very little help is to be looked for from them in keeping up the market. Of course business will not be dead, but in our opinion it will be very quiet during the summer and fall months. There has been very little done during the week in business property, nearly all the transfers that have been made consisting of dwelling houses and lots. In real estate circles the opinion is almost unanimous that the action of the Republican Convention, in the nomination of its candidate for the head of the ticket, is inimical to the best interests of business. "If the choice of such a candidate had been left to the real estate fraternity," said one prominent agent, who is also a democrat, "the present executive at the White House would have been chosen, and although I have never yet voted the Republican ricket, I would have done so if Mr. Arthur had been nominated." This voices the sentiments of a large majority of the agents, with whom we have talked during the week. The Journal is not a political paper, and has no opinion to express through its columns, so we refrain from commenting thereon, but will leave all men to draw their own inferences.

NEW YORK MARKET.

Last week, according to announcement, the sales of the Haggerty and Pentz properties took place. The former property is bounded by St. Nicholaus and Tenth avenues, and One-hundred and Fifty sixth and seventh Streets, in all about twenty-five lots, which sold for $78,250. The Pentz property did not bring as good prices, over a hundred lots having sold for the sum of $98,704, or an average of less than $1000.

In commenting upon the condition of the market, our exchanges say that the rates at which property is sold. prove that the market, though less active than a month ago, has the confidence of shrewd judges of property, who are on the lookout for good investments. From a study of the business done for the first five months of the year, as compared with the corresponding months of 1883, the comparison shows a very much larger business in favor of the present year, as a glance at the figures will show: Transfers, five months of 1884, $98,065,206, same, 1883, $78,140,456. These figures do not include 1,306 nominal transfers from parents to children, and husband to wife, where the consideration is not given, still, as an offset to the actual sum paid for real estate, there were many cases where the consideration was overstated so that the sum given is about the true estimate of actual transfers. The mortgage record shows an increase of nearly $4,000,000 for the same period over last year. But despite this, the gratifying fact is shown that while the amount of money invested in real estate is largely in excess of last year, the relative mortgage indebtedness is much less.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

BREACH OF LEASE CONTRACT—MEASURE OF DAMAGES. — Supreme Court of Alabama, Frank R. King v H. C. Reynolds; from Shelby Circuit Court.

1. Damages for Breach of Contraot.—Damages for a breach of contract, to be recoverable by action, must be the natural and proximate result of the breach; that is, they must not be accidental, abnormal or remotely consequential. And they must also be certain: that is, susceptible of being ascertained by a rule which is reasonably certain and uniform in its operation, thereby excluding speculative or contingent profits.

2. Same — Measure of Damages.—In an action by the lessee for a breach of contract for the lease of a meadow, on which there was a standing crop of Johnson grass ready for cutting at the time possession should have been delivered, the plaintiff is entitled to recover, as damages, the value of that standing crop; and not having received possession during the entire term, he is equally entitled to recover the value of the several cuttings or crops which the grass would ordinarily produce during the season.

3. Same—Who not Party Plaintiff. — A person who furnishes a portion of the money used by a lessee in making a cash payment of rent in advance, under an agreement that he is to become a partner with the lessee when he obtains possession, is not a proper party plaintiff with him in an action to recover damages for a breach of contract by the lessor, in failing to put the lessee in possession.

INTEREST—ON PROMISSORY NOTE—CHANGE OF STATUTORY RATE.—A promissory note bearing a rate of interest on its face will carry the same rate of interest until judgment, although, in the meantime, the statutory rate of interest has been changed. O. has or has not any right of dower in said premises or real estate.

Held, that the petition should state all the interest that the said E. O. has in the premises, or if the petitioners do not know the whole ot said interest they should so state, and the said E. O. should be required to discover the extent and nature of her claim. Demurrer sustained with leave to amend. SHEPARD, Chancellor.—Legal Adviser.

MUNICIPAL BONDS—WHEN MAKER NOT ESTOPPED BY RECITALS IN.—Superior Court of the United States, No. 582, October term, 1883; the County of Dixon, in the State of Nebraska, plaintiff in error, v. OUR BUILDERS AND MANUFACTURERS.

Builders play so important a part in the improvement of a city, that a great deal of interest is always manifested toward them, and justly so, for to them perhaps more than anything can be attributed the solid growth and beauty of a city. The architects prepare the plans, it is true, bnt unless the plans are given to competent and reliable builders to execute, there is always failure and disappointment to be met when the work is finished. Chicago has little to complain of in this respect, thanks to the large number of representative builders, which here abound and flourish, and among these, perhaps no more representative a firm can be found than that of John McEwen & Sou, No 243 to 261 Wells St. Thirty years ago Mr. McEwen opened a small shop on the present site of his establishment. and began business in a small way, which increased as the years rolled by. Mr. Mc Ewen has seen the once wild prairie land blossom into a thriving city, and looking back over the years that have flown, can point with pardonable pride to the active part he has taken iu this wonderful transformation. As the city grew, new channels of business were thrown open, and that of manufacturing Sash, Door, Blinds, and Mouldings, became a necessity. By his large experience, Mr. McEwen was eminently qualified to embark in that business, and done so, with the success which always attends experience and perseverance. From a comparatively small beginning, his business grew and throve until it aggregates nearly a half-million dollars per annum,which is conducted in the fire-proof, five-story and basement brick building, 100x150, at Nos. 243 to 261 Wells St. After enjoying the fruition of his hopes, and the results of his life work, Mr. McEwen very naturally began to long for some one upon whom he could cast the more arduous work of his business, and to whom he could intrust it when he should retire. Having the good fortune of being blessed with a son just coming to his majority, it was natural to select him, and about one year ago the old established name of John McEwen, Bulder, was changed by adding his son's, since which time it has been known as John McEwen & Son. Their specialty is contracting and building large houses, both public and private, and also manufacturing sash, doors, blinds, and mouldings for the trade, and that they have a large busiuess is evidenced by the fact that no less than 200 men are constantly employed by them. The Journal has known this house for years, and can cordially commend it to all.

Hardwood Lumber and Timber.

In the columns of the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL the lumber trade of Chicago has often been referred to, and short notices given of the business carried by a great many houses. Of the numerous firms, however, engaged in it, that of MESSRS. HOLBROOK & Co. is entitled to more than a passing recognition in our Journal, as being not only eminent in this linc of operations, but also noteworthy as conducting an extensive business in Hardwood Lumber and Timber. The judicious development and utilization of our vast resources in these materials, especially such as are employed by Carpenters, Builders, Carriage and Cabinet makers, Furniture manufacturers, and similar industries, has been of the greatest importance; but it promises to obtain far greater importance in the future as the character and durability of these woods and their special fitness for the purposes for which they are intended become more widely recognized.

MESSRS. HOLBROOK, whose extensive yards are located on Grove and 18th Streets, this city, are regarded as among the largest and most prominent dealers in Hardwood Lumber of every description, in the city, and having unsurpassed facilities for securing a choice selection of the best growths of Hickory, Oak. Ash, Walnut, Cherry, Whitewood, etc., etc., are at all times prepared to fill orders for any quantities in the plank or rough-sawed, thoroughly seasoned and fit for immediate use. They also furnish to order, flooring in Ash, Maple, Walnut, Oak and Cherry, and solicit correspondence, feeling assured that the goods will give entire satisfaction, and at prices as reasonable as elsewhere. This representative and reputable house, established upwards of 31 years, are known and respected all over the United States. They could furnish much matter of interest to the reader of this leading industry, had we space to devote to the same in this issue. We take great pleasure, however, in commendiug them to the trade, as straightforwardness. promptness and liberality form the basis and policy on which their large business is conducted. We refer to their card on another page.

Important to Builders, Etc.

Since increased attention has been bestowed on the necessity for many and important improvements in our systems of house drainage, the deadly character of the gasses that escape from imperfect drains and sewer connecions, the material used in the construction of these drainage systems has come in for increased consideration, and many changes have been made in their selection. It has been found, for instance that the cheap cast iron pipe, so largely employed for soil and waste pipes, is one of the most unreliable of conductors for such purposes. In the first place, it is very liable to be full of sand and air holes; in the second, it is so weak and brittle that the caulking of a firm joint without splitting it, is almost impossible, and it is, moreover. very liable to corrosion. In well-drained houses it is almost entirely abandoned, and when the costly, screw-jointed, heaay wrought iron pipe is not used, and it is too expensive for general introduction, builders and plumbers have almost entirely returned to the glazed earthware pipe, with its cement joint. The change has been expedited considerably by the important improvemeuts that have been made in its manufacture.

Prominent among them all, however, stands the AKRON SEWER PIPE, which, for permaneut impermeability, good fit, strength and durability, has not its equal in the market, and is for sale by Mr. N. A. WILLIAMS, No. 219 Washington Street, Chicago, Ill., who is the manufacturers' agent as well as the largest dealer in the City in Akron Sewer Pipe, Fire Brick, Drain Tile and Cement, Hot and Cold Flues, Chimney Tops, etc., of STANDARD quality. All the articles enumerated above and handled by this old and reputable house, have in every instance won the highest commendation from commissioners of public works, engineers, builders, property owners, and others who have tested their unequaled merits; for, like wine, they become matured and strengthened with age, as can be shown by the mass of testimonials of the most irresistible force, in favor of them over all others. Under these circumstances it is only a matter of time when we will see them used everywhere exclusively, especially as the Sewerage Department is now using and always have used the AKRON as the STANDARD PIPE for Chicago sewerage. No other firm in the City carries such a large and complete stock, nor effect such extensive sales, as orders are constantly coming in, which are filled promptly at manufacturers' prices.

Mr. Williams is a gentleman whose high standing in both social and commercial circles precludes the necessity of personal comments at our hands; he is known in every section, and his trade reaches far into the West and Northwest.
